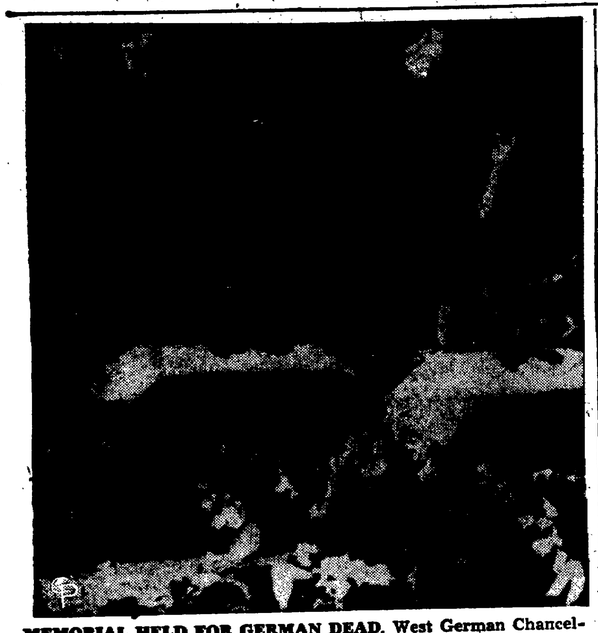
Rhee Awaits Conference With Envoy From Dulles



MEMORIAL HELD FOR GERMAN DEAD. West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer (arrow) tells nearly a million persons that Germans "will not rest until the German people behind the iron curtain are free again." Adenauer spoke at a memorial service for the dead and wounded in the East German uprisings against the Russians.

Reds Attempt To Placate East Germans

BERLIN (AP) — Prime Minister Otto Grotewhol announced today that many East Germans arrested for joining in rebellion against Red rule are being released but he said the "genuinely guilty" would be severely punished.

It was a placating move to a population simmering with resentment and still under martial law eight days after long-smouldering dissatisfaction with Communism exploded into revolution.

Grotewohl spoke to a rally of Socialist Unity (Communist) Party workers. He empasized the machinery is already in motion for releasing the great numbers of East Germans rounded up after the rioting on June 17 and in the days following.

Western circles reported as many as 16,000 workers in Soviet Zone jails, another 4,000 in East Berlin prisons. The severe punishment Grotewohl talked about was spelled out by 27 summary executions by Russian Army riflemen and evidence that the East German local courts are considering the same judgment in a few cases.

The East German regime disclosed also that it had invited its subjects to air their grievances in Red-sponsored public discussions.

The new policy obviously was designed as a safety valve to keep the East zone from exploding again into open fighting, but the Reds' Radio Berlin commented that the discussion sessions also would give the government a chance to explain its "new course."

The Russians, however, gave no major sign of lifting their own grip imposed after the open rebellion began a week ago. Martial law still prevailed and a wartime-type curfew emptied the streets nightly.

The Soviets made only a few minor concessions, letting East and West Berliners who work across the gun-ringed frontier cross at three special points, and releasing 800 West Berliners caught in the Soviet sector by the riots.

Those released said another 500 West Berliners still were being held in a former slaughterhouse for further checking.

Salvation Army Commander Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Ernest I. Pugmire, 65, national commander of the Salvation Army since 1944, collapsed and died today while walking on 14th Street, at Sixth Avenue, near the Salvation Army's national headquarters. He lived in Wyckoff, N. J.

Commissioner Pugmire was stricken while walking from a subway station to his office. He was dead when an ambulance arrived.

Pugmire, born in Kansas City, Mo., had served 46 years with the Salvation Army in the United States, Canada, China and Japan.

He organized the Salvation Army's earthquake relief program after the Japanese earthquake of 1923. He was the Army's chief secretary for Japan at the time.

Pugmire had been stationed in the New York office since 1942. He came here as territorial commander for the East.

He also was a vice president and a director of the United Service Organizations.

Ike Drives For Excess Profits Tax Extension

Calls for Pressure To Break Rep. Reed's One-Man Roadblock

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and GOP congressional leaders decided today "to utilize every possible means" in an effort to force action on the blockaded bill to extend the excess profits tax.

House Speaker Martin (R—Mass) put it that way after he and other leaders had conferred with Eisenhower on the situation created by the refusal of Chairman Reed (R—NY) of the House Ways and Means Committee to call a meeting for that unit to vote on the administration measure.

Reed's stand has kept the measure bottled up in committee. GOP leaders say they have the committee votes to send it to the House floor if they could only get a ballot in the committee.

In reply to a question, Martin said the first step in an effort to force a committee vote will be to try to round up a majority of the 25-member committee to petition for a meeting of the group.

The profits tax expires automatically next Tuesday, although it could be extended retroactively. Tension obviously was mounting as the psychological deadline approached. The administration has made an all-out fight for the extension, saying it needs the 800 million dollars involved.

N.Y. Financier To Head AEC

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today chose New York financier Lewis L. Strauss, who was a member of the original Atomic Energy Commission, to be the commission's new chairman.

Eisenhower sent to the Senate the nomination of Strauss for a five-year term on the commission, starting June 30 and running through June, 1958.

The White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, said the President will designate Strauss as chairman of the commission, succeeding Gordon Dean, whose resignation is effective June 30.

Strauss, a rear admiral in the U. S. Naval Reserve, served as a member of the Atomic Energy Commission from its inception in 1946 to April 15, 1950.

Strauss left the commission to return to private business.

Last March, Eisenhower appointed Strauss as a special assistant and advisor on atomic energy matters.

He served in that capacity without salary and will continue to serve as the President's personal advisor on atomic energy matters, Hagerty said.

Strauss is 57.

Refused Permission To Subpena Clark

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Judiciary Subcommittee today moved into the final stages of its probe of the Justice Department after being denied the power to summon Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark.

The full committee Tuesday turned down Keating's request for authority to subpoena Clark by a vote unofficially reported as 22 to 5.

School Aid Bill Passes Senate, 24-9

Big City Bid For Slice of State Aid Loses by One Vote

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—One of the 100th General Assembly's hot potatoes—the school subsidy bill—was in the hands of the House today in a form the lower chamber likely will find palatable.

Senate passage of the school bill Tuesday, 24-9, undoubtedly brought final adjournment of the 25-week-old Legislature much closer.

The classic Senate debate over the school bill was a battle between big-city senators and the rural bloc. The big-city forces made up of both Republicans and Democrats lost the fight by one vote on a key amendment.

The big-city forces, apparently quarterbacked by veteran Sen. Carl D. Sheppard (R-Summit), wanted a slice of the next two years' appropriation increase for schools. The rural forces insisted the increase go to needy school districts in order to bring them up to a minimum financial standard. This was the original intent of the state's school foundation program, they declared.

The battle reached its climax just before the vote on the big-city amendment offered by Sen. Fred L. Hoffman (R-Hamilton) when Sheppard took the unusual step of demanding a "call of the House."

When Sens. Donald H. Rolf (R-Hamilton) and Ross Pepple (R-Allen) failed to answer "present" to the call, Lt. Gov. John W. Brown ordered the sergeant-at-arms to find them.

Pepple, who already had announced his opposition to the amendment, simply had stepped from the chamber momentarily. But Rolf frankly admitted he had intended to "duck" the roll call.

But if Sheppard believed dragging Rolf into the Senate chamber would turn defeat into victory, his plan backfired. In a hushed chamber and the tensest Senate roll call of the session, Rolf voted "no" on the Hoffman Amendment. The amendment was lost 17-16.

Rolf explained later: "I was not going to vote on the amendment because I didn't want to vote against Hoffman. But I wasn't going to join up with a few Democrats to defeat party policy. When they insisted I vote, of course I voted 'no.'"

A source close to the Republican majority leadership said Sheppard's move to force Rolf to vote may have cost the big-city group another vote—that of Sen. Raymond Hildebrand (R-Lucas). This source said Sheppard's move angered Hildebrand. Hildebrand had been wavering on the issue.

While the total school subsidy estimated under the Senate bill—231 million dollars in the next two years—is higher than the rural-dominated house is known to favor, there is a far better chance for quick agreement on the bill without the Hoffman Amendment than with it.

Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche recommended a two-year subsidy of 215 millions. Majority Republicans in the House favor a 227½ million figure. The subsidy in the two year period which ends June 30 was 207 millions.

The Senate school debate was long and acrid. Cries of "steal" and "money grab" came from both sides.

Sen. Delbert Latta (R-Hancock), pointing out the primitive condition of some rural schools, declared: 'The kids in the poor districts are entitled to the same consideration as those in the rich districts. The senators supporting the Hoffman Amendment don't want a school bill at all. They know if it passes the Senate with this

Deserts Batory in British Port

Skipper of Polish Liner Flees Ship, Asks Asylum

LONDON (AP)—The Polish sea captain who hauled fugitive Gerhart Eisler to a Communist haven was a refugee from the Reds today and Britain was expected to grant him political asylum.

The Pole, Capt. Jan Cwiklinski of the liner Batory, who was decorated by the Red Warsaw regime for his part in Eisler's escape from the U. S., stayed ashore with the ship's medical officer when the Batory sailed from Britain Saturday.

Officials, maintaining tight secrecy about the whole affair, said only that the asylum request was under study but responsible sources declared it undoubtedly would be granted.

London newspapers said both Cwiklinski and the medical officer, identified as a Dr. Taklaeter, were being held at Durham Prison while the request was under consideration. There was no official confirmation of this report.

Cwiklinski is married and has a son and daughter. It was not known here whether they had made their way out of Poland or were still in Gdynia, the Batory's home port on the Baltic.

The 53-year-old captain reportedly left the Batory at Hebburn, four miles from the Tyne River port of South Shields, where the 14,287-ton pride of Red Poland's merchant marine had been refitting since May. The liner sailed Saturday for Gydnia with no stop scheduled en route. A witness to her departure said the first officer was in charge of the vessel when she left.

The Batory is the ship on which Eisler, then awaiting deportation from the U. S. for making a false statement when he first entered that country, stowed away in 1949 and escaped to Europe.

A British court ruled that Eisler could not be forced back to the U. S. He later made his way to East Germany and became a Communist propaganda chief but lately has fallen into disfavor.

Controversial Mine Hearing Is Called Off

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hugh Butler (R—Neb.) today suddenly called off a hearing on the nomination of Tom Lyon to be director of the Bureau of Mines.

Reports that the administration was reconsidering the whole matter and might actually withdraw the nomination could not be immediately confirmed.

Committee sources said they had no definite idea why the hearing was called off and did not know at once whether it might simply have been postponed. But one committee aide said privately that the "whole business of this nomination may be more controversial than we thought."

The postponement at least delayed a committee appearance by John L. Lewis to turn the full heat of his wrath on Lyon.

Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, has called Lyon a "political hack" and a "comparative ignoramus."

Lyon astonished members of the Senate Interior Committee at the start of his confirmation hearing yesterday by disclosing he is getting an annual $5,000 pension from Anaconda Copper Company and remarking that the federal coal mine safety law should never have been passed. He said safety enforcement powers should be exercised by the states.

BOSTON FIRE KILLS 3

BOSTON (AP)—Three women died today in a fire that swept through the five-story brick Lyndeboro apartment block on Isabella St., a block from police headquarters.

One of the dead was identified as Albertina Gauchet who was believed to have been visiting in the building. She lived nearby.

Police suspected arson.

Wife Freed In Death Of Crestline Man

Judge Harold P. O'Connell freed 29-year-old Mrs. Mary Bender in a Chicago felony court Tuesday from a charge of murdering her husband, Vincent, 29, former Crestline resident.

Bender, a Pennsylvania Railroad employee, died Friday night while enroute to a Chicago hospital of a knife wound in the chest.

Mrs. Bender had been held by Chicago authorities since her husband's death on a technical charge of murder. A coroner's jury ruled the stabbing accidental Monday, but Mrs. Bender was held for further questioning by prosecutors.

During her appearance before Judge O'Connell Tuesday, patrolman George Higgins of the Chicago police department, testified that Mrs. Bender had told him she pursued her husband during the Friday night quarrel. Mrs. Bender had previously stated that her husband awoke Friday night in their Chicago south side apartment in an "ugly" mood. She said he beat her with his belt and threw a cup of coffee at her. When he lunged at her again, she grabbed a butcher knife. "He must have run right into the knife," she said. "I didn't know he was stabbed until I saw the blood on his chest."

Mrs. Bender is the mother of three children, Vincent, 3, Rogena, 2, and an adopted son, Paul, 10.

Funeral services were held this morning for Bender at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Crestline, with burial at the church cemetery.

Prospect Officer Hurt In Training Accident

Lt. William A. Levering of near Prospect was slightly injured Tuesday in the premature explosion of an 81 millimeter mortar shell during training at Ft. Campbell, Ky., The Associated Press reported today. Two soldiers were killed by the blast.

Lt. Levering, who was commissioned last December after graduating from the Officers Candidate School at Ft. Benning, Ga., is an instructor in mortar fire at Ft. Campbell. He and his wife, a Boone, N. C., girl whom he married in January, are making their home there. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Levering of near Prospect.

Reds Throw Full Division At U.N. Lines

U.S., South Korean Infantry Beat Off Big Chinese Attack

SEOUL (AP)—U. S. and South Korean infantrymen hurled back Chinese attacking in division strength and Sabre jets bagged six Red MIGs today as three years of war in Korea drew to a close.

The war goes into its fourth year tomorrow.

The Eighth Army said Chinese regiments which attacked Allied hill positions in Central Korea's Iron Triangle had been beaten off by midafternoon except in one small sector.

Battle-toughened infantrymen of the U. S. 3rd Division and South Korean units hurled back 3,000 Reds in a night-long battle for Boomerang Ridge.

And to the east, reinforced South Koreans of the ROK 9th Division drove off Reds attacking Sniper Ridge.

Some fighting was still under way around nearby Jane Russell Hill on Triangle Hill at midafternoon, but the Army said relatively few Reds were involved.

A U. S. Army spokesman said the Red attack on Sniper Ridge began shortly after midnight and carried into South Korean trenches at some points. Dense fog helped to screen the attackers. But reinforcements were rushed to the front and before noon the Reds were in retreat. No more than a single Communist platoon remained in the area by 2:30 p. m., the spokesman said.

The Red attack appeared to center on Sniper, which Allied forces held all through the great battle for the Kumhwa ridges last October. The Communists have attacked it periodically ever since.

The major assault followed several days of quiet along the 155-mile front.

The only casualty report came from Boomerang Ridge where Third Division troops estimated that they killed and wounded more than 700 Reds.

Allied fighter-bombers took off to bomb and strafe the attacking Reds as a heavy overcast began clearing late in the morning.

Aside from the bitter fighting on the Central Front, there was almost no activity.

Fire Destroys Marion Home

Starts in Garage, Spreads to Home

A three-room house and garage on Fountain St., north of Fairground St., burned to the ground Tuesday morning.

Fire Chief O. A. Sifritt estimated damage of the house which was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Silas Slone; at $2,500.

The fire started by spontaneous combustion of some oily, rags stored in the garage. A strong wind swept it into the one-floor plan house. Mrs. Slone, who was watching television, and three youngsters were in the house at the time of the fire. She smelled smoke and upon finding the garage in flames, rushed the children from the house to a neighbor's house, firemen said.

Fire spread to a car belonging to Alfred Combs, which was parked in front of the house, and the paint of the vehicle was scorched.

By the time firemen from the W. Center St. and Central stations arrived at the scene, the buildings had almost completely burned to the ground. Only items saved from the house were the television set and a picture frame, Chief Sifritt said.

A bonfire on the General Telephone Co. pole lot, north of Cheney Ave., was whipped into a pile of telephone poles by wind Tuesday at 3:29 p.m. Firemen from the W. Center St. and Central stations extinguished the blaze. There was no loss.

A short circuit in the taillight of a car belonging to Howard George of 447 Bartram Ave. caused $10 fire damage at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday on the corner of W. Center and Oak Sts. The fire

MESSAGE FOR RHEE. Assistant Secretary of State Walter Robertson waves his hat as he boards a plane for Korea with a secret message from Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to Korean President Syngman Rhee.

Go Easy On Foreign Aid Cuts, Ike Asks

President Wants Strong Hand For "Big Three"' Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has asked congressional leaders to back his hand at the July Big Three conference with a foreign aid program approved without major cuts.

Presidential lieutenants who have talked to legislative chieftains pictured Eisenhower as being anxious to give Britain and France not only his own but congressional assurance that the flow of military assistance to them will be continued.

The House has voted a $4,998,000,000 ceiling on foreign aid for the year beginning July 1. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has approved a $5,318,000,000 authorization bill.

Chairman Wiley (R-Wis) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said today he will sponsor an amendment to increase the President's authority to transfer funds from one area to another, perhaps more critically in need.

Wiley's proposal represented something of a retreat from his suggestion yesterday that the President be given unlimited authority to shift aid from one country to another or to withhold it entirely.

Sen. Taft of Ohio, the Republican leader, said any such discretionary authority would be "too broad." Sen. George (D-Ga) of the foreign relations committee and Sen. Russell (D-Ga) of the armed services committee concurred in this view.

Taft said he doesn't believe the Senate would agree to unlimited presidential authority. But he said he is willing to delegate to Eisenhower the decision on whether about a billion dollars in European aid should be withheld until Western European countries ratify the European Defense Community treaties for formation of a unified army.

The House has voted to tie down

Could Alter ROK Stand, He Declares

Seeks Last-Minute Concession by U.S. In Truce Stalemate

SEOUL (AP)—President Syngman Rhee said today impending conferences with a special emissary from Washington may "open new channels" which would make an armistice "more acceptable to us and perhaps more honorable to the U. S."

The statement—made in an interview with NBC—contrasted sharply with Rhee's threat earlier today to fight on alone if a truce unacceptable to him is signed by his allies.

The ROK government, meanwhile, announced formation of a committee of top cabinet members—with Rhee as chairman—to take over "defense" of the country immediately in the event of a cease-fire. Its duties were not explained.

As the bloody war ended its third year, these developments heightened the tension in this devastated Asian peninsula:

1. Assistant U. S. Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson, carrying a secret note to Rhee from Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, landed in Tokyo and was expected in the South Korean capital Thursday.

2. Rhee served official notice he would yank his 16-division Army from United Nations control if an armistice is signed on present terms.

3. The leader of all anti-Rhee political party, Dr. Chough Pyong Ok, was severely beaten after speaking out against the Korean President's defiant truce stand.

4. The biggest antitruce demonstration in South Korea, with more than a million taking part, was expected to be touched off Thursday—third anniversary of the costly war.

5. Yoon Chi Yung, vice speaker of the ROK National Assembly and an outspoken Rhee supporter, insisted that his nation's armed forces "will not retreat even one step back" from the present battle line.

In an impassioned letter to Gen. Mark Clark, Rhee declared that under the terms of the present armistice agreement "I do not see . . . how the ROK forces can remain under your command, however regrettable to us."

Rhee—who tossed a wrench into an impending armistice last week by ordering the release of more than 27,000 anti-Communist war prisoners—steadfastly opposes any truce that leaves Korea divided.

"We say no now with deep humility," Rhee wrote Clark, "not out of defiance."

Rhee's action heightened the task of Robertson, who told reporters in Tokyo:

"I am still hopeful that I will be able to remove all misunderstandings and differences that stand in the way of peace."

He was accompanied from Wash-

U.S. Leaders Tense, Tight Lipped

Crisis Is Underscored By Official Silence

WASHINGTON (AP) — Official silence on the Korean truce crisis today underscored deep government concern over what Syngman Rhee may do next to block an end to the Korean War.

President Eisenhower canceled his weekly news conference, which ordinarily would have been held today. It was understood that he did so because of the delicate truce situation.

Other officials have declined to give out any substantial information on Korean problems or prospects.

That a showdown with Rhee is at hand is clear in the dispatch of Assistant Secretary of state Walter Robertson to see him. Robertson carried a secret message from Secretary of State Dulles.

All evidence indicates that U. S. policy makers are pinning their hopes on persuading Rhee to let a truce become effective regardless of his opposition to it. They have no hope that he will accept the truce but believe he might agree to refrain from any action which would threaten to wreck it.

There is no evidence here of a disposition to meet Rhee's latest price for a settlement. He said yesterday he wanted a defense pact with the U. S., withdrawal of United Nations and Chinese troops from Korea, and a three-month limitation on postarmistice negotiations with a resumption of war if a permanent peace had not been agreed upon.

U. S. officials regarded this as a move which would commit the U. N. to fight for Korean unity again if it had not been achieved by political negotiations in 90 days.

The decisive step which the South Korean President has clearly said he will take, if a truce he doesn't like is signed, is withdrawal of his forces from the U. N.

● Several weeks ago we bought one of your Insect-O-Lites and installed it in our kitchen and found it to be very effective in ridding our house of flies and other insects. We have a cattle farm and naturally the barn and house were infested with flies, but thanks to this appliance they have entirely disappeared.

● One of your agents sold me an Insect-O-Lite during my vacation and it has proven so practical and effective that I would like to place this order for six more to use in my home, barber shop and give them to several friends. Anything that can destroy waterbugs is certainly worth the price.

Reviewer Questioned By George Sokolsky

Edward J. Fitzgerald, the all-time book reviewer, who, coming out of a Washington government job, suddenly branched into a fiction reviewer for "The New York Times," the "New York Herald Tribune" and "The Saturday Review," appeared before the Jenner committee and took the Fifth Amendment on a question involving espionage.

SOKOLSKY

"The New York Times" and the "New York Herald Tribune" took the situation in their stride. It may be recalled that Fitzgerald had testified that he had done six reviews for the "Times," about 50 for the "Herald Tribune," and 53 for "The Saturday Review."

The first complaint I received about my article on Fitzgerald was from a friend on "The Chicago Tribune" who wondered why I thought the New York publications controlled the book market. Did I not lay too much emphasis on New York?

WHEN I HEAR that down in Texas a bookstore will not sell a book because these three New York reviews pan it, I wonder whether books are sold because readers might want to buy them, like any other commodity, or whether bookstores are becoming propaganda outlets.

Norman Cousins, of "The Saturday Review," let me read Fitzgerald's views and they are generally about lesser fiction.

As I do not read lesser fiction but only the worst in paper covers, I had not read one book that Fitzgerald reviewed, I can reach no positive conclusions on his ability, although it seems to me that it takes no knowledge to summarize these escapist books.

HOWEVER, Norman Cousins gives Fitzgerald the direct lie and if Cousins is right, Fitzgerald has committed perjury before a Congressional committee. Fitzgerald had said:

'Mr. Morris Jenner committee counsel — Did he (Cousins) know about your having been identified in Washington as a member of a wartime espionage ring?

"Mr. Fitzgerald — May I consult?

"Mr. Morris — You may.

(Witness confers with counsel)

"Mr. Fitzgerald — I discussed the matter with Norman Cousins.

"Mr. Morris — Did you make any explanation to him?

"Mr. Fitzgerald — I decline to answer that question."

TO THIS, Norman Cousins replies:

"At no time previous to the press stories about Fitzgerald's testimony did I have any knowledge or intimation of the fact that Fitzgerald was under investigatin in connection with espionage. At no time have I held any political discussion with Fitzgerald."

-:-

THEREFORE, all that needs to be done is to call Norman Cousins to so testify and then Mr. Fitzgerald can explain it to a judge.

Cousins wrote me:

"I also called Mr. Fitzgerald to find out what the basis was for his statement.

"I read to him the transcript of his testimony as published in your column.

"He stated flatly that, whatever the actual testimony showed, it was not his intention to say or imply that I had any knowledge of the espionage charge. I am obtaining a signed statement to this efect which I shall transmit to Mr. Morris.

"Mr. Fitzgerald has also agreed to reappear before the Senate Internal Security Committee."

What interests me most in this situation is the practical journalistic side of it. Nothing is tougher than to review books for these three publications. In my younger years, I did some book - reviewing but not too much of it because most books published in these days of mass production are newspaper and magazine rewrites, particularly in the fields in which I claim expertness.

SUCH BOOKS are hardly worth reading, much less reviewing.

I can say that for a new man, with no reputation as a writer, to invade this esoteric field and do about 109 reviews in approximately a year for the three leading publications in the field is little short of marvelous.

How did he break in?

Who introduced him?

Who sponsored him?

Even in the field of lesser fiction, it is not easy to break through the resistance of the literati. Yet, this boy did it.

I wonder if he has patented his method?

need a WATCH?

U.S. Lines Up Defense Pact With Franco

WASHINGTON (AP)— The United States is reported nearing final agreement for use of Spanish naval and air bases in return for large-scale military and economic aid.

Top officials confidently expect three separate agreements spelling out these Spanish-American ties will be signed sometime this summer.

Tentative plans call for the Eisenhower administration to provide the Franco government with about 200 million dollars in military and economic assistance during the fiscal year beginning July 1.

As part of the deal being worked out in Madrid, the American government is reported ready to spend additional huge sums running into perhaps hundreds of millions of dollars, to modernize and expand about half a dozen Spanish air and naval bases.

Spain would agree to lease these high strategic air and naval installations to the U. S. to help in the defense of Western Europe against communism.

Sheridan Rides Again

I was watching a little stinker on Ford Theater the other night called "Malaya Incident" when Ann Sheridan, playing a real tough bad girl, looked the handsome rubber planter in the eye and said: "Rubber! Is that all that counts in this stinking jungle? Don't people count, too?"

John Crosby

It's a great line, eminently suitable for my Cliche Collection. In fact, the author became so entranced with that notion that he couldn't keep away from it and a little while later we hear Miss Sheridan exclaim: "I'm afraid you know rubber better than people, Mr. Hunter."

-:-

LATER LOVE BEARS its pretty blonde curls and when the tough girl's tough pal asks her what's wrong, why, in short, she's acting so funny, she stares off into the jungle and says: "Something you wouldn't understand."

Still later she opined that she was a bad girl because—well—men made her that way and now that she had met the first good man of her life (Hunter, the guy who was long on rubber and short on people), he fails to understand the one decent thing she ever did. Oh brother!

Now that Hollywood is running off with so many of the TV dramatic shows, I expect we'll be in for a raft of this sort of thing and I feel it my duty to gird you for what is to come.

THERE'S BOUND to be that great scene—"Why, Evelyn, have you forgotten what Mark did to you"

"All I know, Mother, is that Mark needs me and I must go to him."

"Malaya Incident" was a jungle story and somehow they left out a line—maybe it landed on the cutting room floor—without which no jungle picture can long endure. "Those drums—! They're driving me, mad, MAD!"

One of these fine days, the TV people will get music in their blood like the movie folk and then you can expect this little interchange:

"Who is that rude young man who plays the piano so badly."

"That is Frederic Chopin."

OR THAT OTHER one:

"Forget about all those people out there and sing to me!"

"But, Mr. Iturbi, I'm scared."

Then the religious pictures will come along and — "I think that God will understand, son. Why don't you have a talk with Him about it"

And there will always be the westerns.

"And who are you, anyway?"

"My name is (pause) Simkins."

"Simkins! Not the man who tamed Dodge City!"

The psychological thriller: "Why do you—look at me like that" Or the straight detective stuff: "We thought you might know whom he's shielding."

"I? Why—uh—how should I know?"

-:-

I CAN'T WAIT for the movie folk to rediscover the mysterious East and then we can expect:

"And how are you feeling, Fu Chan?"

"When the honorable dragon's shadow falls across the grave of venerable ancestor, it darkens the lives of rich and poor alike."

Or perhaps we're in for a run of sociological drama about our juvenile deliquents and then—"Listen! Either a girl is decent or she's not. There's no half way business about it. If Cynthia is such a good girl, what is she doing out with Rodney Penthouse"

We cliche collectors are in for a rich harvest.

Youth, 18, Admits Slaying Crippled Girl Neighbor

ATLANTA (AP)—Eighteen-year-old David Gene Price admitted, police said, that he killed a crippled next door neighbor whose mutilated and nude body was found in a suburb wooded section Monday.

The youth then asked police to telephone his mother to bring him "some real scary murder comics and some hot dogs."

Detective Supt. Glynn Cowan said the youth told him yesterday that he choked Betty Bagby, 22, after having intercourse with her Saturday night, then dropped a stone upon her head. They had quarreled, Price told police, over taking a bus home instead of a taxi. He said he didn't have money enough for a cab.

Bush Pilot Flying

By Relman Morin

By RELMAN MORIN
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—Took a plane ride with a bush pilot in Mexico, a while back. This is not a habit-forming experience.

He had a little yellow bug with props about as long as the span of a tall man's arms. The plexiglass blister in the roof suggested that the plane might have been a light bomber from the last war, but of that I can't be sure. I do not recall having seen any in which a rope was used to fasten the door.

There was no radio in the ship, but then, in the region this pilot covers, it would have been simply excess baggage. There is no place to radio to.

Our boy flies jungle and mountains, exclusively. He probably would not feel at home riding a radio beam, or even putting down on a concrete runway. Any old strip of reasonably level and uncluttered ground is okay with him.

So he was just the man to take us to Palenque.

This is a village in Southeastern Mexico, not far from the border of Guatemala. Some seven miles or so from the village is a wonderful Mayan pyramid, two or three exquisite temples, and the ruins of a palace. It would be worth seeing even if you had to go through the jungle on your hands and knees.

Last year, the body of a king was found in that pyramid, a discovery of immense importance to the people who poke around in the remains of vanished civilizations. It raises again the question of whether a connection ever existed between the Mayans and the ancent Egyptians. Maybe even the lost continent of Atlantis?

If this sort of thing interests you, go to Mexico. The regular Mexican airline will put you practically along side most of the great archaeological sites. Palenque, however, requires a little doing.

That's how we happened to engage the services of the bush pilot.

First, there was the weigh-in—which meant the passengers, not their baggage. You can't take anything except a lightweight toothbrush.

There were some seats bolted to the floor, facin each other in the manner of bucket seats. You have to sit up on near the cockpit on the takeoff and landing. There was no door on the cockpit, which permitted an excellent view of a first-class pilot, flying, as the wide-blue-yonder boys used to say, by the seat of his pants.

Well, we got off the ground, played tag with a couple of mountain tops, and headed northeast. Presently, we were over solid clouds.

This pilot has a few streaks of grey in his black hair, and he must have been around quite a while to acquire them. Or else, perhaps, they all came at once when he was trying to get down through a ceiling like that in mountainous terrain.

Our flight was to have taken about 50 minutes.

Sure enough, some 45 minutes after takeoff, the captain nosed the bug down into the clouds. As usual, it was like flying through a bowl of milk—excep that nobody was below to calmly radio data and directions for a ground controlled approach landing.

Some 30 seconds later, he turned her nose up again, and gunned the motors. The plane burst out above the clouds. He kept on his northeasterly course.

From time to time, he glanced at his watch. Once or twice, he flipped the switches on the fuel indicators. The needles were not encouraging.

Finally, he went into the clouds again. This time, he kept going, and presently broke through. We were over a plain, and all he had to find was a level stretch to put down on. He picked an avenue between some trees that looked about as wide as a bowling alley. And there we were.

In that type of flying, he explained later, you must more or less smell your way through the mountains. The first time he started down through the clouds, things didn't smell right.

Next time, on that run, I ride with Jimmy Durante.

Ask Guaranteed Annual Wage

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A demand for a guaranteed annual wage, long a cardinal point in labor's fight for security, held the spotlight today in contract negotiations between Aluminum Company of America and the CIO United Steelworkers.

The big union laid its case for a guaranteed annual wage before ALCOA, largest producer in the industry, in an opening two-hour session yesterday. It is believed the USW also presented demands for a general wage increase, elimination or reduction of geographical and plant pay differentials, and improved welfare and pension benefits.

Zookeeper Retires, Allergic to Animals

DENVER (AP)—After 17 years service as Denver zookeeper, George H. Rosean, 71, is retiring—he is allergic to animals.

At least that is what the doctor says. Rosean isn't too sure. All he knows is that he choked up when he gets near Rosie the elephant.

Rosean was about ready to retire anyway, so he doesn't bear any malice toward Rosie for putting the wheeze on him.

VOTE DOWN BOND ISSUE

ALLIANCE, O. (AP)—A $225,000 bond issue for Alliance City Hospital lost by 37 votes Tuesday, 1,877 favoring the 10-year, half-mill leavy, and 1,068 against. Passage required 65 per cent.

CAPTURED BY FBI. "I knew you'd get me sooner or later," said Donald Charles Fitterer, shown in San Francisco City prison, when FBI agents captured him at the toll plaza of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge. One of the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted" criminals, the 28-year-old Fitterer admitted the killing of Charles K. Harrison in Fort Madison, Ia. He also admitted robberies in two Iowa cities, West Burlington and Muscatine.

Seeds of Revolt

American "trouble-makers" are blamed by Communist authorities for uprisings in the Russian zone of Germany. The Communists charge there was a plot.

The charge is denied. Whether it is true or false is beside the point. Communists must be given no excuse to slaughter innocent persons on the pretext that they are spies and agents of the United States.

But it is too bad the United States cannot accept the charge it is sowing seeds of revolt behind the Iron Curtain. It possesses the world's most potent variety of seeds.

Every dictator-terrorist lives in dread of the American idea of political freedom. Of all the revolutionary ideas which have made established governments insecure since 1776, American freedom is the only one that does not have to be nutured by lies and propaganda. It grows naturally in the human mind.

When Communist authoritarians have executed every individual and every group of individuals standing in their way, they still will not have killed the idea of freedom. It will outlast them in every country they seize. It will survive all their educational distortions and their terrorism.

The uprisings in the Russian zone of Germany are proof that the seeds of freedom are still potent. They do not mean a successful revolt is at hand. But they do reveal that no amount of Red suppression and terror can keep men from wanting to be free so desperately they will risk their lives in the attempt.

"Lawyers" Amendment

The Senate Judiciary Committee has reported out Sen. Bricker's resolution to amend the Constitution to block possible abuse of the executive power to make treaties.

This starts the Bricker proposal on its way, but there still is a possibility the House of Representatives will block what is intended as a safeguard for constitutional freedom. As matters stand now, it would be legally possible for the executive branch to make a treaty overriding any part of or all parts of the Constitution.

Sixty-four senators are sponsoring the resolution—two - thirds of the Senate membership. They have admitted the danger which Sen. Bricker's proposed amendment would eliminate.

They know the danger lies in nothing politicians might seek to do by popular mandate but in the possibility that legalists might take advantage sometime of an oversight in the fundamental law. What Sen. Bricker proposes might be called a "Lawyers' amendment" because it would keep lawyers from doing something which only lawyers would know how to do—something which lawyers have admitted could be done.

Among the lawyers who have admitted this is Secretary of State Dulles, who says he is opposed to the Bricker proposal. His opposition is cancelled out by his previous views on the same subject.

Constitutional freedom depends on keeping potential despots from laying rough hands on liberty. The Bricker proposal erects a sign on a weak place in the Constitution: Undergoing Repairs.

It May Gum Things Up

The Post Office Department has set up a new Division of Philately to encourage one of its most profitable enterprises—selling stamps to collectors. Some are used on special day cachets; many are tucked away in albums, at 100 per cent profit to Uncle Sam. The former Philately Agency of the Post Office Department sold up to $4 million in stamps to collectors per year. The new larger Division will really go to town, and if it doesn't pay off the National debt it may help Postmaster General Summerfield increase deliveries or prevent any postage rises. He calls philately an "interesting avocation." To some collectors, it is their life work, causing meals and even wives to be ignored. Summerfield's new division will earn money, but may hike the divorce rate. That merits no stamp of approval.

One Test of "Free" Speech

President Eisenhower has played enough golf in Georgia to realize the ardor of regional zeals. Hence, he could not have been surprised when his nominee for U. S. Attorney for Southern Florida, James L. Guilmartin, since 1951 a practicing lawyer in Miami, was put under a microscope to satisfy everybody that he was a valid Floridian. It was noticed, for instance, that Guilmartin did not have a "Cracker accent," and indeed talked like a New Yorker. He had attended a law school in Brooklyn, also had studied at Harvard? Either could be a rail-riding offense for something special, indeed. How could Mr. Guilmartin, with any idea of ever getting a political post in the deep South, have been so careless as to inhabit Brooklyn or attend Harvard Either could be a rail-riding offense for a Texan.

Divide and Conquer

Democrats Using McCarthy as Wedge to Split GOP

Politically the Eisenhower administration and the Republican Congress are stronger today than on the day of the election last November.

Not only does a recent Gallup survey show this appraisal, but there are other evidences of a political nature that the negative trend which set in against the Democrats and the Truman administration has not yet reached its peak and may result in an actual increase of Republican strength in the congressional elections next year.

One thing, however, could change the picture for the Republicans—a successful effort by the Democrats in the North in their present campaign to split the Republican party wide open.

Indeed, the radical Democrats in the East are so convinced that this is a winning strategy that they have set to work intensively to bring about that result.

They have begun a nation-wide attempt to drive a wedge inside the Republican party on the anti-Communist issue.

While the Democratic managers didn't like to admit it during the last campaign, the fact is that the anti-Communist issue cut deeply into the ranks also of the Democratic voters. From a political viewpoint, the lines of cleavage have hardly been altered since last November.

Much of the momentum behind the anti-McCarthy speeches being delivered nowadays with such vehemence by Sen. Lehman of New York and other Democratic speakers is due to a belief that anti-McCarthy tactics will result in a break-up of the Republican party. If there is such a serious split, the Democrats would profit immensely by the division.

The Democratic managers have a right to try those tactics. It's logical for them. Their speakers give the impression, on the surface that their sole target is Sen. McCarthy and that, if he is weakened in the public eye as a result of persistent attacks, there will be an augmentation of Democratic votes.

The smart ones among the Democrats know that this isn't going to be the result at all and that instead what would really happen would be a break-off of the pro-McCarthy Republicans from Eisenhower. That is the principal reason why the Democrats and many of their Fair Deal supporters in the Washington press have lately been striving so desperately to convince certain gullible persons in the Eisenhower entourage that the time has come for a break with McCarthy by the President.

Mr. Eisenhower thus far has avoided the trap, but his every utterance, however abstract, is promptly construed as a concrete manifestation of hostility to McCarthy.

What is not generally realized is that McCarthy is only a symbol of anti-Communist feeling and that efforts to discredit the Wisconsin senator's crusade against Communists in the government will leave a residue of bitter feeling among the anti-Communist Republicans throughout the country, and especially in the Middle West.

Some of the leaders in the Eastern wing of the Republican party have never clearly understood the Wisconsin election of last Autumn.

They are apparently eager to have a demonstration once more that, when the issue is made, the cause of the anti-Communist crusader, no matter what his name may be, will have a majority following even though his "methods" are criticized. The Democrats in Congress who in the last 20 years have used the same "methods" are, of course, never mentioned.

The anti-Communist crusade didn't start with McCarthy. It goes all the way back to the 1930's when Martin Dies, head of the House committee on un-American Activities, was the victim of just as much vituperation as has since been visited on the Wisconsin senator or on anyone else who has dared to use a congressional investigating committee to expose the tricks and stratagems of the Communists and fellow travelers in America.

The cry that the nation is "filled with fear" and that "intellectuals" can't express themselves freely and that the United States is the victim of "witch hunts" may be swallowed as gospel by the radical Democrats and by various people, most of whom voted for Stevenson last autumn, but the number of Republicans who feel that way about it today is a small percentage of the Republican party.

The inside strategy of the Democrats is to alienate Eisenhower from the wing of the Republican party in which Sen. Taft was so strong last year, hoping the anti-McCarthy Republican faction will grow larger and larger.

The Republican party was almost equally divided before last year's national conventions as between Taft and Eisenhower. The Taft following to a large extent was on the McCarthy side, especially in the Middle West.

So any sizable division in the Republican party, from whatever cause, will be fatal to the congressional nominees of the Republican party in the 1954 elections.

Many of the anti-Communist Republicans will not go to the polls to vote for candidates who may have teamed up with anyone, including Mr. Eisenhower, to relax vigilance on the anti-Communist crusade.

No One Gets the Idea

By TRUMAN TWILL

Father's Day passed uneventfully. There were the usual gestures of homage to the head breadwinner. They were carefully restrained.

That was as it should have been, because nothing would panic a run-of-mine father like a gusher of a celebration over an occasion with a purely commercial background. That is not the way he wants to be appreciated.

He already has all the clothing he needs to protect his feet and neck. His other needs, which are meager, can be satisfied out of the small allowance he sets aside for the indulgence of his bad and good habits.

What a father would like to have he never gets. He would like to have a feeling of not being taken for granted.

He would like to have his brood act surprised when he comes home from work, as though the brood had thought of the possibility he might go to Miami Beav after work, instead.

He would like to be fussed over on his time off as though he were a visiting dignitary who had his choice of a number of exciting places to go but chose his own home because he had a burning desire for good company.

He would like to be told seven or eight times a day how various members of his family have been pointing to him with pardonable pride because he is undoubtedly the smoothest thing of his kind since frozen custard was invented.

He would like to have the use of the family taxmobile without having to fight for it as though he were a GI drawing transportation from a motor pool.

He would like to have mama blush prettily and stammer in confusion when he remembers to say something flattering about her, instead of looking him steadily in the eye and tell him the knob has fallen off the bathroom door again because he didn't put it on right.

Everybody talks about mama and why she isn't appreciated. That's not so. She owns more than half the property, has the vote and the benefit of numerous labor-saving appliances so she can do her own housework. The old man is lucky if they'll let him have a power mower to cut the grass.

It's papa who gets the short end. He is supposed to appreciate everybody else — mama, the children, their teachers, the friends of the children, the friends of mama — everybody. But when it's time to appreciate papa, they ease their consciences with a few trifles on Father's Day.

Now that Father's Day is safely past, wait until the old man gets off his guard, then say casually some day, "Did anyone ever tell you that you looked like Clark Gable and would make a bang-up president of U.S. Steel or U.S.A., whichever you prefer, Pops?"

Better yet, pick out one of the old man's household chores and do it for him. He will be flabbergasted. He won't believe it could have happened. "But it did, Egghead, and it couldn't have happened to a nicer guy!" Say that to him.

Butter him up. It won't cost a cent.

U.S. Debt Growing But So Is Income

Are Americans borrowing too much too fast?

This question is attracting increasing attention as the result of the fact that our total debt — government, business and individuals combined — showed another big increase to a record high in 1952, and is still going up all along the line.

Current estimates indicate that the gross debt of the economy rose by nearly $40 billion more last year to reach a total of about $640 billion at the year end. This figure is about $175 billion of nearly 40 per cent, greater than the total of gross debt at the end of World War II in 1945 and almost three times the aggregate owed in 1940.

The big expansion since the war has been in private debt. Gross borrowings of business and individuals combined more than doubled in this period, rising from $155 billion in 1945 to an estimated $330 billion at the end of last year.

Of this total, individual and non-corporate debt together showed a greater rate of increase than did corporate debt, moving up from $55.5 billion in 1945 to about $137 billion at the end of 1952—rise of nearly 150 per cent.

Home-mortgage debt and consumer credit led the debt increase in rate of expansion in the period.

Rising debt is a normal accompaniment of expanding business activity, and plays a vital role in a high-production, high-consumption economy like ours. However, a volume of debt of the present size, amounting to the equivalent of some $4,000 for ever person in the population, would seem to call for caution.

Besides, more observers are referring to the length of the boom and the height it has reached, the question of whether some readjustment is in the offing, and the growing strain on the money and capital markets to supply the increasing demands for funds of the federal government as well as of state and local governments, business and individuals.

Then, too, averages do not show where, and at what income levels, the major portion of the debt is owed.

In view of this, therefore, the recent uptrend in interest rates, small though it may be by past standards, is a constructive development.

In addition to providing a long-needed incentive for the saver, it tends to make business and individual borrowers think twice before taking on new debt commitments.

The question of when debt in general becomes too burdensome, and just where the danger point lies, has never had a ready answer except in hindsight, because debt-bearing factors change with the economic atmosphere.

Right now, when judged by such factors as the rate of growth in debt in relation to national income, the position of debtors as a whole compares favorably with all previous periods except the abnormal World War I years.

For the 1940-52 period, for example, the total gross debt has shown an increase of about 195 per cent, based on the U. S. Department of Commerce debt series. National income, on the other hand, rose about 257 per cent in the period.

For the period from 1945 to date, national income has increased almost 60 per cent as against less than 40 per cent in the total gross debt. The total of debt last year was about 2.2 times the national income for the year as against a 1940 ratio of approximately 2.7 times.

Thus economic activity has grown more than debt for the 1940-52 period.

It is likewise significant to compare the trend of private debt alone with the annual gross savings of business and individuals combined. The figures show that only in 1947 did the growth of debt exceed the year's savings in the private sector of the economy.

Last year the margin was about two to one in favor of savings, one of the best showings of the post-World War II period.

Furthermore, in contrast with a generation ago, there are two additional factors today with a favorable bearing on debt. The first is the amortization principle, which is an inherent part of all home-mortgage debt and is found in other parts of the private-debt structure as well.

Debt repayment on home mortgages alone is now estimated at about $3 billion a year, and represents an important personal savings as well as debt-reduction item. Most consumer debt is on a regular repayment basis also.

The second important factor is the growth of credit life insurance, which covers borrowers for the amount of unpaid loan balances. This type of life insurance provides added protection for the family's thrift program in case of the death of the borrower.

Chance for an Open Mind

By MARK DANA

Each step, each specific if minor action, by Soviet Russia which in these times implies a softening of harsh strictures in Western Europe can be closely scrutinized to perceive motivations and any evolving policy pattern change. There have been many such actions of late. Russia set up a one-man civilian High Commissioner in East Germany to replace troops control of that iron-curtained area. New friendly gestures have been made to Turkey and Austria. The Soviet Politburo has announced an end of its flagrant hostility to the Protestant Church in East Germany, and has radically modified its restrictions there on private business enterprises, individual farm operation, and acts hitherto punishable as crimes against the puppet government's economy.

Now for the first time in 1947, Moscow is relaxing its chalk-line regulations for foreign correspondents to the extent of inviting them to make official tours in Russia. Previously, some reporters were allowed to go to Leipzig for the fair, under both surveillance and censorship, but some more corners of the iron curtain are now being tentatively lifted for reportorial peeking.

The West German Republic officials, and some others trying to work up a West European armed defense bloc against Russia, are becoming uneasy, even unhappy. So are some Americans who have been trying to develop and capitalize on an intensive anti-Russia fever to arouse enthusiasm for the European Defense Community idea. Such persons now declaim that Russia is just trying to weaken bitter opposition, seeking to drive wedges among the democracies, endeavoring to dilute U. S leadership and talking points, implying a softened change of heart by the new post-Stalin-Malenkov regime to lull other countries deceitfully into a lessening of security measures. These things may be true. Phases of the "peace offensive" by Russia in Korea may also have ulterior motivations. If Russia really is desisting from adamant harshness all along the line, it may be due more to opposing force and stiffening resistance than to sudden kindliness toward other peoples. However, while remaining ever wary of tricks and reversals, we can rightly benefit from such gestures, whatever their real motives. After looking a gift horse carefully in the mouth, we should bridle it.

Indians were frequent visitors at the home of Jacob Aye, one of the early settlers of the eastern part of the county. Welcomed by the family, they also repaid friendly gestures with gifts. On one occasion, an Indian, Peter Standingstone by name, sought shelter at the Aye home after being caught in a heavy rainstorm while hunting. Taking his departure after enjoying a hearty dinner, he returned a few days later to present Mrs. Aye with the forequarter of a young deer.

Honorary Degrees for 1953

Ezekiel R. Cooksey—A designer of autos, your motto being "There's a limit to everything," you refused to go ahead with further ideas for relieving the driver from all necessity for alertness, effort and responsibility in operating the vehicle.

"We have everything so mechanical already that it is an effort for a driver to stay awake," you declared publicly.

"Now that we have fixed it so he can move the seat forward, backwards, upwards and downwards by button, steer by button and indicate what he may do next by button, let's stop in the interest of public safety." You win a golf-plated degree, a trip to Europe and a five-year's supply of pipe tobacco.

P. Guernsey Zwipple—During the entire year of 1952 and up to the start of today's campus parade you never once clammed up in a governmental inquiry into your loyalty, yelled for the protection of the Fifth Amendment instead of saying yes or no to a reasonable question or felt it necessary to bring your lawyer into it before answering the questions, "Have you held any meetings with secret agents of a foreign government?" Help yourself to the best set of degrees in the house and stay for lunch.

Cheevers X. Tooper—A man of the rarest courage and candor, you have made it a practice to reply, "Its garbage at exhorbitant prices" whenever the head waiter came around after that awful dinner and asked smilingly, "Was everything all right?"

This departure from the cowardly routine employed by people who, no matter how swindled they have been, lisp, "Yes, everything was lovely," is noteworthy and commendable. Would you rather have a degree or a case of champagne?

Oliver Bisby Ploot—A police and detective bureau chief, you have steadfastly said, "Wipe that smile off your mug," to all mobsters, rapists, stickup men and bank robbers before permitting them to be photographed for newspaper and magazine display.

It has been your belief there was nothing to laugh at, and that the kids might get the wrong idea. You once threw a photographer out of the window for insisting that a particularly crummy night club bum strike the pose of a Nobel Prize winner. Nothing is too good for you. You rate a medal.

Gideon Prentice Butts, II—The head of a large corporation anxious to market a product of wide public appeal, you nevertheless refused to go through with a TV program featuring crime and blueprinting crime routines, feeling that it might have a bad influence on the young. You scrapped it with the simple statement, "Out with the idea! I have kids of my own."

Gideon, you are a man among men. You get not only an honorary degree but nine cheers and a life membership in the League of Video Sponsors who Give a Damn.

M. Birkinghead Phudd—You like beer. But throughout the year you refused to obey the baseball announcer's blatant, "Go to the ice box NOW and get yourself a nice cold glass of lager," and waited until you felt thirsty.

If this doesn't make you a distinguished American, what does? Take one of the de luxe degrees with gravy, buster!

Interest Centers on September

Fall Business Previewed

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Business is getting ready for its usual summer siesta. The question this year is: At what level will it start up again in September?

A number of important industries will largely close down during part or all of July for the annual vacations. This practice is spreading through industry. Each year more plants join the vacation shutdown move.

And this year some plants have announced they are extending the vacation closings for a week or two longer, because new orders aren't too abundant—one of the increasing signs thot the economy may be backing away from the peak activity of the long boom.

A summer slow down, of course, doesn't go for all industries. Some except to boom this summer as never before. These are the ones that cater to America-on-the-move.

Resorts, shipping, airline and auto industries anticipate their biggest summer. Gasoline dealers, busy at the moment raising prices, expect to sell more than ever before.

But while vacationists are gadding, their home factories will be idling. The index of industrial production is due for a slide.

In itself this won't mean too much. The questin will be how much it recovers in late August and early September. Most businessmen are waiting to see the strengt of the fall pick-up before making any predictions on whether the boom has topped out and a mild recession is coming.

The industrial production index, and several other statistical measuring sticks, won't be too indicative this summer for still another reason.

For the next two months, comparisons with year ago figures will have a much too rosey hue. That's because the big steel strike of last summer put industrial production figures then at an unusually low summer level. In many places the strike also lowered retail sales figures. This happened not only in steel making centers but in other industrial communities where layofs were caused by steel shortages.

As a result, even with vacations and other summer - type slow downs, industrial production and retail sales figures may look good this summer if you merely compare them with last summer's abnormally low totals and averages.

Also likely to complicate this summer's business picture is the muddied and confusing view of international affairs.

Auto Crash Reunites Uncle and Nephew

YAKIMA, Wash. (AP) — Leslie Goodykoontz was having trouble finding his nephew, Joe Goodykoontz, after driving all the way to Yakima from Wyoming to visit him for the first time in 17 years.

More intent on finding Joe's house than on the traffic, he drove onto Nob Hill Boulevard yesterday. An oncoming driver slammed on his breaks to avoid a smashup and skidded into a utility pole.

"Whassamatter, you !!!!" spluttered the driver of the wrecked automobile as he climbed from his car. But he didn't finish. The driver was Joe, the nephew.

Uncle Leslie got a negligent driving ticket anyway.

Dial Telephone Service Begun In Wharton

Dial telephone service for the Wyandot Community of Wharton became a reality today when workmen of General Telephone Co. of Ohio cut over the system to dial service at 7:30 a.m. The cut over was instantaneous and within a few minutes all services were in operation and subscribers were using the new system. This was reported today by R. C. Fesenmyer, division commercial manager of the company, which has its headquarters here.

Telephone workmen began to remove the magneto type instruments as soon as the cut over was made. For the past several weeks, most of the Wharton subscribers have had two instruments in their home, the dial as well as the magneto.

The new dial equipment was manufactured by the Leich Electric Co. of Genoa, Ill., and was designed to meet specific requirements of the Wharton exchange.

"Dial Tone" is one of the new features introduced and company spokesman emphasized the importance of listening for the steady humming sound before dialing. The dial tone indicates that the equipment is ready to handle the call. If an attempt is made to dial a number before the tone is heard, it may result in getting a wrong number or no number at all.

The cost of the work at Wharton incident to the dial cut over will amount to almost $80,000, Fesenmyer said. In addition to the automatic equipment, a new building was required, the pole, wire and cable distribution system expanded and all subscriber instruments changed to dial type.

General Telephone Co. of Ohio, an operating subsidiary of General Telephone System, operates 135 exchanges in 62 counties throughout the state and serves more than 91,000 telephones.

Rhee's Warning Ignored

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—As it reaches its third birthday tomorrow the Korean War has become one of the most frustrating chapters in the history of mankind.

South Korea's President Syngman Rhee, whose troops couldn't last long against the Chinese if his United Nations allies pulled out and left him alone, is attempting to dictate to them the terms on which they can have a truce.

He's gambling, of course, that they won't leave him. But what may be overlooked is that Rhee made it clear long ago he'd get his way or else. No one, perhaps because he seemed so helpless by himself, seemed to take him seriously.

There is no doubt South Korea would have been wiped out by the North Korean Communists, and that Rhee would have lost his republic and maybe his life, if the U. N. had not stepped in to bail him out.

But from the moment they began to turn the tide for him back in 1950, he began to state the terms on which he would permit a truce. He has repeated them, in one form or another, ever since.

So, no matter what they say about his lack of gratitude, he can at least claim he has been consistent and that if his performance now appears as a surprise it must be only because no one listened to him.

By mid-August, 1950, the Americans had saved South Korea from annihilation, and Rhee began telling the Allies the kind of peace he would insist upon.

At that time, when former President Truman was assuring Rhee the North Korean invaders would be expelled from South Korea, Rhee replied: "We shall complete unification of North and South Korea for all time."

Sept. 28 of that year Rhee announced his government would accept only the unconditional surrender of the invaders. On Oct. 14 Rhee rejected a U. N. decision that his South Korean government could not rule temporarily in North Korea until a Korean national election was held.

That was when the Allies were chasing the North Koreans back over the 38th Parallel, which separates North and South Korea. Later that fall the Chinese came into the war and beat the Allies back below the 38th.

By the summer of 1951 the Allies and Communists began their truce talks, which were to continue for another two years before there was even sight of truce.

But the irrepressible Rhee was attempting to take full charge of the terms on which the Allies could settle.

There isn't room here for all he said. He was beginning to think he was getting under Truman's skin but was quoted as saying that even though Truman didn't like him he'd say what he pleased.

On Sept. 20, 1951, Rhee said the U. N. should not resume the cease-fire conferences except on these conditions:

(1) The Chinese Reds should withdraw from Korea; (2) the North Koreans should be disarmed; (3) North Koreans should be granted full and equal representation in the Southern National Assembly through U. N.-observed elections; and (4) the U. N. should set a time limit for Communist acceptance of these terms and break off the cease-fire talks permanently if the Reds didn't meet the deadline.

The terms he laid down yesterday, almost two years later, while not identical on all points, had some similarities. Yesterday he said he would not agree even to a truce, much less a peace settlement, unless:

(1) He got a mutual security pact with the United States (a demand he had expressed before); (2) there were plans for simultaneous withdrawal of U. N. and Chinese Red forces from Korea; (3) the war would be resumed if there is no political settlement within 90 days.

But the U. N. friends of South Korea can't force the Chinese out unless (1) the Chinese agree (2) the Allies are willing to open a great offensive to force them out. Nor can the Allies force the Chinese into any other agreements except by victory after a great offensive.

There may be surprise that Rhee has made hash of a Korean truce but no surprise that he long ago indicated he would unless he got his way.

Sandusky Bay Bridge Veto Overridden

Was Lauche's First In 100th Assembly; Private Interests Win

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche's first veto of the 100th General Assembly appears doomed to futility.

The House overrode it Tuesday by a 91-18 vote and the Senate likely will follow suit today.

The measure is an act authorizing a private firm to build a toll bridge over part of Sandusky Bay to link Sandusky and the resort of Cedar Point. Lausche objected to what he said amounted to an outright gift of the land under Sandusky Bay to the bridge company.

Also on tap today is a House vote on a Senate-approved bill permitting the closing of courthouses on Saturdays and a Senate vote on a House-approved measure clearing the way for land trades looking toward improvement of the Cleveland lakefront.

The House has passed 75-30 and sent to the Senate a bill on municipal annexation of unincorporated areas. Its major provisions would:

1. Allow annexation of territory witout requiring transfer of the school district, and

2. Allow all property owners, instead of only resident-owners, to sign annexation petitions. This would allow corporations owning property in an affected territory to sign annexation petitions.

The House also passed 101-12 and sent to the Senate a bill to create a division of alcoholism in the state health department. A similar proposal stalled in the Senate two years ago after passing the House.

The Senate sent to the House an emergency bill appropriating $100,000 for relief of those in the path of the recent Northern Ohio tornado. Sponsors described it as only a "token" relief.

Command. Such a step probably would be preliminary to ordering his troops to go on with the war, even if the U. N. and the Communists agree to an end of the fighting.

If the troops remain under command of Gen. Mark Clark, the U. N. commander, and Clark signs a truce agreement, officials here think that despite Rhee's opposition the South Korean divisions in the battle line can be counted on to obey Clark's orders to stop shooting and pull back from the truce line.

If Rhee does carry out his threat to break with the U. N. Command and strike out on his own there appear to be three main lines of action open to the U. N. Command, which is under the policy direction of the U. S. government:

1. To back up Rhee and go on fighting what is considered here to be a needless war. In the U. S. official view, the war in Korea has already served its purpose of blocking Red conquest of South Korea. The U. S. has repeatedly declared that the unification of North and South Korea should now properly be sought by political, not military, means.

2. To withdraw U. S. and all other U. N. forces and let Rhee fight on alone. This undoubtedly would mean that South Korea would succumb to the much larger Communist armies.

3. To go ahead with armistice arrangements, if the Communists are willing to do so in the circumstances, and attempt either by outmaneuvering Rhee's forces or perhaps by forcible measures to make the armistice terms effective.

amendment the House won't pass it."

Sen. Charles J. Carney (D-Mahoning) cracked back at Latta by reading statistics that school taxes in Latta's home town of McComb are barely half as high as the average in Mahoning County districts. Shouted Carney:

"You'd better do something at home, senator. To you rural boys I say, you had better take care of your skirts at home before you come to the state for more money."

Boy Loses Track Of Time at Ball Park

A 11-year-old Marion boy who went to play at Lincoln Park Monday morning apparently didn't realize how late it was getting.

Police received a call from Mrs. Norris Shuster of 600 N. State St. at 8:18 p.m. last night. She said her son, Norris, left home at 9 a.m. to go to the park to play and still had not returned.

Police went to the park and asked attendants to call for the boy over a public address system at the ball park.

A few minutes later, at about 9:30 p.m. Mrs. Shuster again called police and reported her son had returned home.

Fire Destroys Barn South Of Marion

A barn on the farm of David Neidhart, four miles south of Marion on County Road 106 was destroyed by fire early today.

Melvin Seiter, Pleasant Township fire chief reported no estimate has been made on the loss. Cause of the fire also has not been determined.

In addition to the barn, which measured 105 by 82 feet, a few pieces of farm machinery were burned along with the hay in the hay mow. Most of Mr. Neidhart's farm equipment was in the fields and the animals also were out of the barn at the time.

The fire was discovered about 3:30 by the family and the Pleasant Township Fire Department was called. Chief Seiter reported when they arrived, only the frame work was standing. The Marion Engineer Depot and Waldo fire departments also assisted.

A milk house near the barn was saved.

Other cities shown on map are reported scenes of strikes and demonstrations against the Communist government. The Communist mayor of one town in Saxony-Anhalt was executed for reportedly knocking down a policeman who fired into a crowd of demonstrators. Demonstrations also continue in Berlin. "Revolt" reports also were coming from two satellites, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

A missing person report on a Marion man last seen at his residence Saturday was broadcast throughout the state today by Marion police.

Police Chief Tom Coon said James Harliss Jr., 30, was reported missing from his residence at 395 Monroe St. by his brother-in-law, Pearl Wiseman of the same address.

Wiseman told police Harliss was last seen in the downtown area Saturday night. He described him as being about five feet eight inches tall, weighing 155 pounds, pale complexion, brown hair, and wearing light colored trousers and a yellow shirt when last seen.

Wiseman told police his brother-in-law formerly lived in Prestonburg, Ky. and that he has called authorities there to help in the search. He was unable to give a reason for the disappearance of Harliss.

Christie Admits Strangling Seven At London Trial

LONDON (AP) — John Reginald Christie's lawyers continued their fight today to prove that the confessed Notting Hill strangler was "mad as a March hare" when he littered his house and garden with female corpses.

Nervously working his long fingers, Christie haltingly admitted garrotting three more women—a total of seven so far—as his murder trial progressed through its third day at London's famous Old Bailey Court. Tuesday he admitted killing his wife and three other women.

He told the court there was "no reason, no sense" in the slayings.

The 55-year-old wartime special constable said the seven victims are the ones he "remembers something about." He testified he "may have" committed even more slayings that those he recounted in the witness box.

Christie technically is on trial only for the murder of his wife, Ethel, whose body was found under the floorboards of the house. His attorney says he is "guilty but insane."

such aid until the treaties are approved by France, Italy and three other nations, and Russell said he rather likes the House provision.

"I think we waited long enough on the formation of Western European army and it is about time to take some drastic action," he said.

Russell said he wouldn't object to giving Eisenhower authority to transfer up to 20 per cent of any country's allocation to another area but thought it would be "going pretty far" to give the President unlimited authority in that respect. As written, the Senate bill would permit transfer of up to 10 per cent from one country to another.

Chairman Bridges (R-NY) of the Senate Appropriations Committee said it would take some strong arguments to persuade his group to raise this limitation.

"Congress never has been willing to put more than 10 per cent in that category in the past," Bridges said.

Air Force Cancels Kaiser Contracts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force today cancelled all its contracts with the Kaiser Co. for the production of transport aircraft.

The Air Force said the termination of the contracts involved C—119's—the "Flying Box Car"—and C—123's at the Willow Run, Mich., plant operated by the Kaiser interests.

The firm will be permitted to complete planes now in final assembly stages. The Air Force said the cancellation action was taken "completely independently of the present senate hearings now in progress."

At these hearings, by a Senate Armed Services subcommittee, Chairman Bridges (R—NH) has protested that the Air Force has been paying Kaiser more than five times as much for a C—119 as the same plane costs at the Hagerstown, Md., plant of the Fairchild Aircraft Co.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND. Relations are very friendly between Syngman Rhee and Smartie, his dog, during this bit of relaxation on the lawn of the South Korean President's home in Seoul. Rhee was host to Gen. Mark Clark, U.N. commander whose relations with Rhee have been strained because of the freeing by Rhee of anti-Communist Korean POWs.

ington by Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff.

When he arrives in Seoul for talks with Rhee, Robertson will be greeted with an antitruce demonstration hailed by South Koreans as the biggest yet.

Hundreds of thousands will snake through main thoroughfares and wind up at a monster rally at the Capitol.

In Pusan, the government named Thursday "Northward Advance-Unification Day" and ordered about 200,000 Koreans to rally in the city plaza for demonstrations, parades and speeches.

In New York, Dr. You Chan Yang, South Korea's ambassador to Washington, said in a radio panel that the removal of Rhee would not ease the split between South Korea and the U. N.

"You'd have to dispose the whole nation," he said.

Rhee told Clark:

"I promised that I would let you know, as a friend to a friend, when I have decided to withdraw our forces from the United Nations Command. That understanding holds good, as you will see in my last letter to you. And, as I said in it, I still hope I may not ave to issue that directive of withdrawal."

Rhee defended his order releasing thousands of anti-Red prisoners by stating:

"To release them as I did, was the only way to avoid the danger of a clash between the Koreans and the foreign pro-Communist troops (Indian troops) that you propose to bring in."

Elyria Set To Sue Pike Commission

City Up in Arms At Refusal To Reroute Toll Road

COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — The Ohio Turnpike Commission, winner in one recent major lawsuit, may face another because of its decision to route the 241-mile toll road through the City of Elyria.

Robert Shoup of Cleveland, special legal counsel for Elyria, threatened such a suit Tuesday after the commission turned down his request for a rerouting of the turnpike. Said Shoup:

"We regret exceedingly your unsound decision. For a few dollars you are inviting the hostility and necessary conduct of action that Elyria must pursue to protect itself.

"The location of this route presents Elyria with an impossible and intolerable situation. We cannot countenance this location. . . .

"Surely the Legislature never intended and the courts of this state will never permit such arbitrary, unreasonable and capricious action.

". . . But it (Elyria) cannot remain still while this commission and its consulting engineers perpetrate permanent, incalculable damage on Elryia and its residents. . ."

Shoup said he might bring suit later this week after studying the commission's refusal to heed his appeal.

Commission Chairman James Shocknessy told Shoup any change in the present route through Elyria would cost the commission about $1,350,000.

Elyria's contention is that the present proposed route would block the master plan for the city's expansion, deprive the city of tax revenues from real estate taken by the highway, stop the city's growth, lower property values, upset street planning, isolate proposed shopping centers from trade areas, divide school districts, and cost the city some $600,000 by depriving it of a location needed for a bridge on its own proposed east-west traffic parkway.

PROTESTS TOO MUCH

A Marion youth was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct by Marion Police Chief Tom Coon when he appeared at the police station Tuesday afternoon to pay a traffic ticket. Chief Coon said the 19-year-old youth protested the ticket a "little too vehemently in the presence of women." He was cited to appear in Municipal Court Thursday morning.

Inside Labor

War on the Docks

By Victor Riesel

A tough little band of mob-controlled labor leaders has had informal meetings and cross country conversations—and the decision is to shoot it out with anyone who tries to clean that breeding swamp of nationally syndicated crime, the New York waterfront.

RIESEL

The mobs will first fight inside the AFL. Word has gone out to all "connections" to prepare to fight at the September convention against ouster of the International Longshoremen's Association.

If they lose, the hoods have said that any new organizer will simply have to blast his way onto the docks, which President Eisenhower said the other day, we need courage to clean up.

So the underworld government is set to battle with our national government.

THE GANG chiefs know that there will be federal indictments of at least 50 of their labor friends on income tax and Taft-Hartley violations.

It will take six months. In the meantime, the mobs will replace the arrested leaders with new and younger faces. But all will be controlled.

That's why Johnny Moran, leader of the Boston Longshoremen, alarmed by developments, has just written a letter to one of his colleagues predicting that there'll be "anarchy, bloodshed and bitter conflict" on the docks of all major ports when and if the AFL ousts the Longshoremen's Union.

Why then is Gov. Dewey dismantling the anti-crime commission and cutting loose all the investigators who exposed the waterfront hoods?

It would take just $100,000 out of a multi-million dollar budget to keep the boys on until the national mob is wedged out of the waterfront woodwork in which it's hading.

BOB HOPE has pulled many a gag at the White House. Now he's due for a serious visit—as a labor leader seeking to avert the strangest strike of all.

The comedian has been asked by his union (he's president of the American Guild of Variety Artists-AFL) to see President Eisenhower soon and warn that Army officers stationed in Europe must stop taking agent's fees and exploiting U. S. vaudevillians or the union will declare the continent out of bounds.

This will result in the first trans-continental strike, the first strike against the Army in the field.

It will also break open several minor scandals when it's revealed that some officers have grown rich and have their rooms stocked with valuable goods, as a result of their control of entertainment in officers' clubs.

When Hope protests to Ike, the "strike" leader, vaudevillian Jackie Bright, the union's veepee, will take a similar complaint to Defense Secretary Wilson. Entertainment of GIs will not be affected.

The boys see USO shows only—and are prohibited from officers' entertainment. Maybe somebody will tell me why.

EISENHOWER'S strategists have decided that they will try to force enough labor law through Congress to enable Ike to keep his campaign promise.

This means that within a few weeks they hope to put into a hopper an amendment to the Taft-Hartley law permitting strikers—who've been replaced by new workers who in turn are operating the struck plant or store—to vote in a labor board election for or against any new union trying to move in across the picket lines.

Directing the White House strategy is Bernard Shanley, the President's special counsel. Shanley was manager of the campaign to win the presidential nomination for Harold Stassen in last year's GOP convention.

In a bid for support of the AFL's 9,500,000 members, the White House will also urge that the law be amended to read that all workers in union shops must join the union within a week, instead of a month, as is stipulated now.

IN A SEARCH for industries which can absorb the slack of a defense production cutback, I've come across another mushrooming enterprise which will make jobs—the motels along the nation's highways.

There are now some 35,000 courts, taking in over $300 million annually. Since each new one usually has a restaurant and a laundry, and costs from $12,000 to $15,000 a unit to construct, the industry is swiftly becoming one of the big purchasers of furniture, electrical appliances and building material.

The motel business has brought with it a giant jump in drive-in-movies—from 155 in 1946 to some 4,500 today. They can hold 4 million movie goers a night, revive film industry and provide thousands of projectionists jobs.

Dr. Pfleiderer Talks to Lions

Dr. George Pfleiderer, past commander of Bird-McGinnis Post 162, American Legion, spoke at the weekly Lions Club meeting Monday noon at Hotel Harding.

His topic was "Peace." He pointed out that the only way for men to have peace in the world was through a raising of the standards of morality and an uplifting of the soul to God.

Trust in our fellow men, especially here in America, must be attained if we are to have a lasting peace, he said. An increase in the defense spending is not the way to prevent war, he said.

Guests at the meeting were Bill A. Hart of Marion, Russ Rickley of Findlay, and Sheldon Lester of Coshocton, formerly of Marion.

Miss MacDonald's One-Woman Drive Gets Results

Playground Equipment Pouring In

By JOHN D. ROBSON

Miss Margaret Mac Donald of 176 Chicago Ave. is writing a new chapter in the history of the Marion recreation system. Miss MacDonald, who teaches home arts and crafts at Lincoln Park, is the first woman employee in the history of the city to solicit funds for playground equipment from the various civic groups here as well as the merchants.

So far, she has received outstanding cooperation from the groups she has contacted. The Kiwanis Club has voted to donate $75 in equipment for her cause. Other groups have donated softball gloves, ping pong equipment, and other materials for use in the betterment of the playground.

Miss Mac Donald saw the need for improving the condition of the equipment used at the playground and volunteered to solicit new equipment from the merchants and organizations in Marion, devoting her spare time to such activities. Her whole campaign is being carried out in addition to her regular duties at the park.

Miss Mac Donald says that the idea of asking for outside help occurred to her when she first began her job at the playground. The equipment which was at the park was not in usable condition and there was no roof on the shelter house where it was stored.

She persuaded a lumberman to donate enough wood so that a roof could be erected over the shed. Then she began to seek donations from various civic groups and women's clubs in the area to purchase sporting goods as part of their summer projects.

Many Have Never Been Asked

The success with which she met in her search for equipment is outstanding. She attributes this to the fact that most of the organizations have never before been approached for such a plan. Once she contacted them, they were willing to do all they could to help her improve the conditions at Lincoln Park.

The children at Lincoln Park have cooperated in the project, too. In past years, they have been careless in the manner in which they have handled the equipment with which they play. It was taken from the shelter and lost or damaged or not returned.

This year a sign-out system has been put in effect. The children sign their names for every piece they remove from the shelter. When they return the equipment, they check off their names. Miss Mac Donald also reports that they are taking better care of the goods they use.

She does not seek cash donations for her program. She desires only the equipment. This way she feels that the groups she contacts will be more willing to contribute.

Miss Mac Donald's method of getting her supplies is simple. She determines before hand the price of every article she needs. Then she personally sees the head of each organization to explain what she wants and why she wants it.

Usually she is invited to speak before the group at one of their meetings. In her speeches, she explains the difficulties she is facing in her work at the park and asks the club to help her overcome these problems. So far, she has met with no direct refusals.

Most clubs and organizations like to have projects which will benefit the community. Never having been faced with this sort of a question, most of them are eager to do whatever they can to help the cause.

Playground Needs

One of Miss Mac Donald's hopes for the future is the acquisition of a steel net for the tennis court. She has already received promises that the courts will be covered with asphalt this season.

She also needs small games, crayons, and small prizes for the contests which are held at the playground. Another need is a ream or more of bond paper so that registration papers may be given to the children.

A softball team has been organized at the park this summer. The Kiwanis Club donation has been used to outfit this team with gloves, bases, softballs, a catcher's mask, and bats. Miss MacDonald had enough left over to buy a croquet set, a basketball net and other pieces of equipment.

She is now in the process of writing letters of acknowledgement to the various groups which have contributed. In these letters, she gives a detailed report of what the donations were used to buy and how the equipment was being used at the park.

She hopes that by the end of this season, if not all the needed equipment has been donated, at least she will have enough to form the foundation for more work and

Experienced in Work

A wide variety of experience serves as background for Miss Mac Donald's work. Her last job before coming to work here was as home arts and crafts instructor for the Columbus City Recreation Department. She worked there from November 1951 to August of 1952. It was the same type of work as she does now.

It was the contrast in conditions between Columbus and Marion which spurred Miss Mac Donald to start her campaign. In Columbus, the equipment was kept in good shape; but in Marion, what little equipment there was at the playground was damaged almost beyond repair.

Miss Mac Donald, who expects to be graduated from Ohio State University in March, has done USO work in Columbus. She has also done portrait modeling, and has been at various times a short order cook, drug store clerk, movie cashier, manager of a donut shop, librarian, swim instructor at the YMCA, and has done substitute singing for a band in Columbus.

She was forced to leave her job with the recreation department last fall to undergo a foot operation. While in the hospital, she was offered a job with the state as a recreation director, but was unable to accept it feeling that the attainment of her college degree would benefit her more.

Miss Mac Donald was born in Marion. Her father, D. J. MacDonald is an inspector at the Marion Power Shovel Co. In addition he is active in the work of the American Legion. Her mother is a nurse at the Pollak Steel Co. One of her brothers, D. J. Mac Donald Jr. is the Community Chest director for Champagne, Twin Cities and Ravenna, Ill. Her other brother, James, is a second lieutenant in the infantry. He is now stationed at Fort Knox, Ky.

Miss Mac Donald is a graduate of St. Mary High School here. She attended Mount St. Joseph-on-the-Ohio College from 1947 through 1949. Then she went to the Cincinnati Art Academy for one semester. She transferred to Ohio State University in the fall of 1949. At Ohio State, she is the social chairman of the Newman Club.

Congress OKs Wheat Grant to Pakistan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress has approved granting a million tons of wheat to Pakistan.

The House voted yesterday 310 to 75 for the proposal, originally made by President Eisenhower. The Senate earlier passed a similar bill. It could accept the House version or send the meature to conference to resolve differences.

The wheat, estimated to be worth about 80 million dollars, comes out of the big stock the government bought to keep prices up. Therefore the grant, urged as a token of U. S. good will to a famine-stricken anti-Communist ally and a prop for foreign policy, is in a sense a farm relief project also.

North Carolina grows nore than two-thirds of the bright leaf tobacco—principal ingredient in cigarette mixes—produced in the United States.

Johns Hopkins Researchers Call For Fireflies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, widow of the late President says she would like to see the Senate investigations subcommittee headed by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) abolished.

She added in a McCall's magazine article she would advocate doing "everything possible . . . to strengthen the FBI in its functions."

She tackled also a question as to whether she would testify about the Communist party background of a friend if she knew he were now a loyal American.

Ordinarily, she said, if she knew such a person she would—and "add that I knew he was now a loyal citizen."

But, she continued, "if I were dealing with such a hysterical situation that a statement of this kind would cost this man his chance to earn a living, and if I knew of no overriding reason for giving such testimony, I would refuse to give it."

Douglas' Dissents Set Record, Supreme Court Statistics Show

By PAUL M. YOST

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new champion dissenter of the Supreme Court is Justice Douglas, the jurist who got into the international spotlight most recently by granting a last-minute stay in the Rosenberg spy case.

Official figures released today show Douglas wrote 35 dissenting opinions in the court's regular and special terms just ended. He also cast 19 dissenting votes without writing explanatory opinions.

This gave him a total of 54 dissents for the nine months of court sessions—a one-year total of protesting votes greater than ever before recorded by a justice in the court's long history.

Douglas dissented in almost half of the 114 cases decided with formal opinions in the 1952-53 terms. While he turned out the 35 dissenting opinions, he also wrote 12 majority opinions for the court.

Douglas had a dissent score of 53 at the close of the court's regular term on June 15. Then he granted the stay of execution to Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, resulting in the tribunal's special term last week. When the court voted to override the stay, Douglas wrote another dissent and reached the peak of 54.

Nearest approach occurred in the court's 1944-45 term when Justice Owen J. Roberts cast 51 dissenting votes. An appointee of President Herbert Hoover in 1930, Roberts retired at the end of the 1944-45 term.

Runners-up to Douglas in the 1952-53 sessions were Justices Black, with 43 dissents; Frankfurter, with 32; and Jackson, with 20. Justice Clark was low with only six opposition votes.

In the 1951-52 term the leading dissenters were Black 37, Douglas 33, Reed 24 and Frankfurter 20. In 1950-51 the standing was Black 42, Douglas 34, Frankfurter 24, Jackson 17.

During the terms just ended, 208 dissenting votes were cast in the decision of 114 cases. For 1951-52 the comparable figures were 171 dissents and 107 decisions. The all-time high in dissents occurred in the 1948-49 term. In 114 decisions then, 264 dissents were registered.

It's First Glance That Counts, Says Judge in Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP)—When deciding whether a picture is legally obscene, U. S. District Judge Alexander Holtzoff said yesterday, it's the first glance that counts.

The judge was considering a stop-mail order issued by the Post-Office against P. A. DeCenzee, trading as the Show Print Company of Oakland, Calif., and dealing in photos of burlesque girls.

"Showing a nude woman lying down on her back is obviously obscene," the judge said as he examined one of the photos.

"But," protested the firm's lawyers, "this woman in this position is wearing a leotard"—a skintight garment like those sometimes worn by acrobats and ballet dancers.

The judge, taking a second look, commented: "If you look at it closely you will see the leotard, but not at a first look."

After examining several more of the disputed pictures, Judge Holtzoff refused to lift the mail ban, but he suggested the Post Office modify it to permit DeCenzee to get personal mail.

"Under the Post Office ban," the judge said, "his creditors couldn't even send him a bill."

It is estimated there are more than 20 million water buffalo in India.

Kirby Elevator Owner Fined In Grain Case

Judge Attacks Law In Sentencing Wyandot Co. Man

A Wyandot County elevator operator charged with converting to his own use government stored grain was fined $2,000 Monday by a Federal Judge in Toledo who attacked the government's grain storage program as being "in complete disregard of the laws of nature."

U. S. District Court Judge Frank J. Kloeb made this statement in sentencing Willis Harvey, operator of the Kirby Elevator, Inc. a news dispatch from Toledo reported. Harvey had pleaded no defense to the charge.

Harvey's fine was the same imposed on two other Upper Sandusky area elevator operators who had been charged with conversion in selling grain stored with their elevators by the Commodity Credit Corp.

"The Commodity Credit Corp. completely disregards the fact that grain can be stored only so long without deterioration," Judge Kloeb said.

"Elevator owners see that the grain is spoiling and notify CCC, but get no reply," he continued. "In desperation the elevator men seek to alleviate some of the loss either by mixing the deteriorating grain with good grain and selling it as a lower grade, or by selling it cheap, and then are penalized."

Judge Kloeb said he felt Congress should do something about changing the grain regulations because under the present system federal judges are bearing the brunt of enforcing the CCC program.

A $1,000 fine against the elevator was suspended. Judge Kloeb pointed out that the firm recently was placed in involuntary bankruptcy and it would be virtually impossible to collect a fine.

A recent settlement of a government civil suit in the same case provided that the elevator would pay $89,755 for converting thousands of bushels of wheat, corn and soybeans stored in the elevator by CCC.

Few Clues Left In Canton Killing

CANTON, O. (AP) — The killer of John (Little Nick) Nickles was with him no more than an hour, police had learned today, but two days of investigating have failed to give them a lead on who did the shooting and why.

A witness was found who heard two shots fired in the Park Oil & Gas Co. garage about midnight Sunday. Earlier police had located a taxicab driver who said he took the onetime "Keno King" from the square to the garage near southeastern city limits about 11 p. m.

An employe of Park Oil & Gas, which Nickles owned, found the squat, 58-year-old bachelor lying face down in a corner of the garage about 9:30 Monday morning. Nickles' face was beaten, and there were two .38-caliber bullet holes in his head.

Tire Rolls Off Truck, Hits Oncoming Car

Marion Man Unhurt But Auto Damaged In Route 23 Mishap

Francis H. Drake, 46, of 824 N. Main St., Marion, escaped injury in a "freak" accident on U. S. Route 23, six miles south of Marion about 10 a.m. Tuesday.

Drake who was driving south, saw a large tire come loose from an approaching tractor and semi-trailer outfit and roll into his lane, Due to approaching traffic, Drake was unable to swerve his car to avoid hitting the tire, but applied the brakes. The tire hit the front of the Drake car, causing extensive damage to the front end, right side and top. A wrecker was called for the car.

This accident was one of four investigated by state patrolmen from the Marion Station.

At 2:30 a.m. Tuesday, five miles east of Bucyrus, on Route 19, a car driven by William H. Shaeffer, 25, of Galion, which was headed south, veered off the right side of the road into a ditch, tearing down two telephone poles and 170 feet of farm fence. The car was demolished and Shaeffer was taken to Galion City Hospital by a passing motorist. He suffered three broken ribs, bruised left side and a lacerated thumb. Patrolmen said Shaeffer apparently went to sleep at the wheel.

Robert D. Johnson, 31, of Los Angeles, Calif., was arrested by patrolmen at 10:40 a.m. Tuesday on U. S. Route 42, two miles north of Cardington, after his car was involved in a collision. Johnson's car was following a car driven by Viola Knoll, 56, of Warren, O. Johnson was unable to stop in time when the Knoll car was stopped by a highway flagman at the beginning of some road construction work.

He atetmpted to swerve into the left lane to avoid colliding with the Knoll car, forcing an approaching auto from the road. The right front of Johnson's car struck the left end of the Knoll car, causing slight damage. Johnson appeared before Justice of the Peace R. R. Bennington at Mt. Gilead on a charge of reckless operation. He was taken to Morrow County jail when he was unable to pay the $25 fine and costs fixed by Bennington.

Cars driven by Ross McLaughlin, 51, of Bucyrus, and Lee E. Imhoff, 35, of Tiro, were involved in a collision on State Route 39, one mile east of Tiro, at 4:55 p.m. Tuesday. The McLaughin car rammed into the rear of the Imhoff car when Imhoff stopped for a stop sign at the intesection of Crawford County Road 46. McLaughlin was arrested on a charge of following too closely and was cited to appear before Tiro Mayor R. G. Eckstein on June 27.

Industries Girls Win Title; Depot Belts Telephone, 26-14

Marion Industries belted the Marion Power Shovel Company, 17-7, Tuesday night at the Shovel diamond to clinch the first round championship of the Marion Girls' Softball League.

The win was the fourth straight for the Marion Industries squad. The Shovel girls dropped two games during first round action.

Sally Murray went all the way on the mound for the winning squad with Jean Ann Thompson handling the catching. Joan Zimmerman collected three hits in four trips to the plate and Mickey Carpenter belted a home run for the winners.

Eileen Sherman started on the hill for the Shovel girls with June Blackford behind the plate. Blackford moved to the mound in the sixth frame with Jennalee Ward taking over the catching chores. Blackford smacked two hits including a homer. Jean Deweese and Sherman also came up with two hits in four trips.

Big surprise of the evening came at the Depot diamond where the Engineer Depot girls unleashed a 21-hit attack against the Telephone Company to notch a 26-14 win.

Nancy Elkins pitched for the winners and Helen Morris caught. Verna Long led the hit parade triple and a single. Elkins banged out three for seven and Morris had four for six.

Veda McClellan and Coleen Kneisley made up the battery for the Telephone team. Marilyn Sifritt belted three hits in five trips and Kneisley had three for six.

An all - star game featuring teams selected by the league managers will be part of a doubleheader Sunday at Depot diamond. The Marion Industries team is tentatively scheduled to play a Delaware team in one of the games.

Police Dept. Headquarters Remodeled

New Radio Room, Enlarged Record Bureau Planned

The first "face lifting" of Marion police department offices in the city hall in many years got underway this week and is planned for completion by about July 1.

Police Chief Tom Coon said that the offices will be remodeled and renovated to provide for "better and more efficient operation of the departments."

Included in the remodeling will be the relocation of one office and the enlargement of another.

The office to be moved is that of the police radio operator which is now located in a room adjacent to Chief Coon's office. This office is also connected to the office of Mrs. Irene M. Gantt, clerk.

On completion of the remodeling project, the police radio operator will occupy a small room formerly used mainly for storage of lost and found items and various police department supplies. This room is located adjacent to the women's ward of the city prison and is opposite to the door leading to the city prison men's ward.

Relocation of this office will provide additional room for expansion of the police record bureau, Chief Coon said. Remodeling plans call for removal of all partitions between the present radio operator's office and the small record bureau.

An existing hallway will be eliminated in the changes which envision the installation of an open counter across the hallway and part of the space occupied by the present record bureau. This will also mean the relocation of a door now leading into the record bureau office.

The short hallway which will be eliminated is one which runs at right angles to the long main hallway running from the north end of the city hall to the rear of the building.

Advantage in the relocation of the police radio operator's office is that the radio operator will be alone in the new and smaller room. His attention will not be distracted by persons gathering around his desk and talking, Chief Coon said.

The police telephone switch board will also be moved to the new location.

Still another change is the cutting of a doorway into an officers' room formerly accessible only by way of a round-about route through the record bureau and radio operator's office. The new doorway opens from the main corridor directly into the officers' room. This room is used by policemen to make out accident and various other report forms.

Chief Coon said that plans are to have the remodeling completed and the expanded record bureau in operation by July 1. He announced the employment of a new clerk in the record bureau Tuesday. She is Miss June Thiel of near Marion.

Pinwheel Layer Cake Ideal for Youngsters

If your particular food problem today happens to be planning a party for the littler friends of the family, you'll find a happy solution in this colorful novel cake. It's a decorative treat that teases both the imagination and the appetite and it's easily made.

PINWHEEL LAYER CAKE

Ingredients: 2¼ cups sifted cake flour, 2¼ teaspoons double-acting baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, ¾cup butter, 1½ cups sugar, 3 eggs, unbeaten, 2-3 cup milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Method: Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Then add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla and blend.

Pour batter into two round 9-inch layer pans, 1½ inches deep, which have been lined on bottoms with paper. Bake in moderate oven (375 F.) 25 minutes, or until cake springs back when pressed lightly.

For Decoration: Take two small bowls and place half a teaspoon of milk or water in each. Add a few drops of yellow vegetable coloring to one and a few drops of red coloring to the other and mix each.

Add half a four-ounce package of shredded coconut to each bowl and toss with a fork until coconut is tinted throughout. Decorate top of cake in wedge designs, alternating color.

Center with peppermint flagpole and decorate also with lollipop clown's face, making ears and hat of bright red cinnamon drops.

LUTHER LEAGUE MEETS

A meeting of the Luther League of Trinity Lutheran Church, was held recently in the church parlors. Miss Mary Vanderhoff conducted devotions and the topic was presented by the pastor, the Rev. Wilbur Budke. Miss Shirley Saiter was in charge of a business session during which plans were made for a hayride June 26. Hostesses were Miss Ruth Ann Williams and Miss Susan Kingsley.

"Safe" Speed Depends On 4 Conditions

Highway patrolmen throughout Ohio are emphasizing their June traffic safety program slogan, "Speeders Lose," in cooperation with the National Safety Council.

Cpl. D. M. Dewalt, in charge of the Marion post, reported that the question most asked by the average person is, "What is a safe speed?"

"Actually, no definite speed always can be labeled as 'safe'," he reported.

"A safe speed can be determined only after consideration of four highly variable factors. These factors are: weather, the condition of the road and traffic, the mechanical condition of the car and the driver's own physical and mental condition."

"Even though the sign on the open highway may say 50 miles an hour," he continued, "that doesn't mean that 50 miles an hour always is a safe speed in that zone. Safe speed depends on actual conditions that exist at any given moment."

Excessive speed was a factor in more than 12,000 of the 27,482 traffic accidents investigated by the patrol last year.

A six-point list which Cpl. Dewalt pointed out as a check list included: (1) Drive at a speed so you can stop in the assured clear distance ahead. (2) Slow down before you get to curves and intersections. (3) At night, drive at the speed which will let you stop within your headlight range. (4) Drive with traffic. You are probably going too fast if you are pasing many cars. (5) Where children are playing, be able to stop in a car length or less. (6) When you're tired or inattentive, stop.

KOREA CASUALTIES

The new list (No. 341) reported 32 dead, 239 wounded, 6 missing in action and 10 injured in battle zone accidents.

Dancing Class Added

Crawford County Children's Home Offers Many Fine Arts

Special to The Star

GALION—Added to the list of many fine arts being offered to the children who live at the Crawford County Children's Home, here, is that of interpretive dancing.

Early in January, 32 youngsters at the Home chose to take dancing lessons when James Scheiber of Crestline offered to teach them.

"Anyone who wanted to learn, was offered the lessons," Mrs. Marvin Adams explained. She is the wife of the superintendent of the Home.

Mrs. Adams said that the incentive for dancing came at Christmas time, when Mr. Scheiber brought a group of his pupils to the Home to give a dance review as special Christmas entertainment. At that time, he offered to come to the Home once each week and teach any or all of the children who wanted to learn to dance.

As a result of several weeks of teaching, the children were presented recently in a dance review in Crestline. Mr. Scheiber had 101 pupils in review, including the 32 from the Home.

Supt. and Mrs. Adams have an outstanding program of fine arts for the children at the Home. It has been carried on to provide a happy childhood for the youngsters and is believed to help curtail disciplinary problems. The Adams firmly believe that the program is one of the best for character building.

Early this year, a greenhouse was completed at the rear of the Home. Construction of the greenhouse was made possible through the philanthropy of a local man. The children are learning to raise flowers and vegetables. At Mother's Day, they were taught to make corsages which they sold.

Supt. and Mrs. Adams are always finding new hobbies for the children. During the winter, the boys spent much time in making various articles out of cypress roots, such as vases, planters, candleholders, table lamps and ash trays. The girls spent many leisure hours in making jewelry and other articles out of sea shells.

When the boys and girls sell any of the articles they make, the money is kept to buy more materials.

At the Home, there is a special hobby workshop where the boys and girls have worked with ceramics, leather, woodwork and painting. They have also done copper moulding, puppetry and plastic carving.

At different times, the glee club at the Home, directed by Supt. Adams, has made public appearances. For those who have talent, there are piano lessons. The children have many pets, such as birds, ponies, monkeys and other animals.

For several summers, there has been the annual camping trip at Camp Avery Hand, near Mansfield, to look forward to. All of the boys and girls, together with Supt and Mrs. Adams and others of the Home staff, pack up and go camping.

Group singing opened the meeting, followed by prayer by Mrs. Helen Meredith. A letter from Miss Ethel Stevens, regarding her missionary work at Clay City, Ky., was read. Mrs. Zelda Sweeney of Minot, N. D., a former teacher of the class, was present as a guest. She gave a talk on her life in North Dakota. Serving as assistant hostesses were Mrs. Bertha Stewart, Miss Etta Carter, Mrs. Theresa Turpin and Miss Sadie Smart.

Gets Chance to Form New French Govt.

PARIS (AP) — President Vincent Auriol crossed up political observers today and called on Joseph Laniel, 63, a deputy little known outside his own Independent Republican party, go have a try at forming a new government to end France's record political crisis.

The nomination was announced after former Premier Antoine Pinay, another independent, gave up his attempts to put together the nation's 19th postwar cabinet. France has been without a government since Premier Rene Mayer was ousted May 21.

Laniel has served in several French Cabinets but always as a junior minister.

D OF A PICNIC PLANNED

Commerce Dept. Designates C of C Cooperative Office

The Marion Chamber of Commerce has been designated by the United States Department of Commerce as a cooperative office, it was announced today of George A. Moore, regional director of the department.

"The designation will permit Hugh Webster, executive secretary of the Marion Chamber, and the members of his staff to give a much more effective service on business information to the community," the announcement said.

The local Chamber will receive periodically up-to-date information on Census, economics and other factors of business from the Department and the Chamber's library will be supplemented with many Commerce publications so that most of the questions businessmen ask may now be answered locally. In addition, the Department will make its service available to the Chamber for finding hard-to-get answers to any problem as may come to it; either in management, production or general economics.

"The growth of Marion and the active interest the Chamber is showing in wanting to serve the community even better than it has in the past is the reason for this expanded service. We urge all businessmen, whether members of the Chamber or not, to take advantage of this localized opportunity to get the facts right on the ground," Moore said.

"Prods" Husband With Butcher Knife

TOLEDO, O. (AP)—She just prodded her husband a bit "to get him out of bed so he would get to work on time," Mrs. Lela Sorrell, 53, told Common Pleas Judge John Q. Carey.

Five years probation for cutting with intent to would, the judge ruled, and suggested any future prodding be done with something less deadly than a butcher knife.

Mother Forgives Son Who Took Her Life Savings

NEW YORK (AP)—Henry Way, who lost his mother's $13,000 life savings on the Kentucky Derby, escaped a trial for grand larceny yesterday when the little 71-year-old woman forgave all.

Mrs. Lillian Way refused to press a complaint that her son took the money from a joint safe deposit box to bet on the Derby.

"I haven't long to live," she said. "I hope God will forgive my sins and I want to forgive my son's."

Way, 43, who as three children and one grandchild of his own, had bet the money on Derby favorite Native Dancer and lost by a head. A grand larceny indictment against him was dismissed.

Weeping, he told the judge:

"I'll sign my house over to my mother and give her everything I've got. She can live with me for the rest of her life."

Mrs. Roosevelt States Views On Investigations

BALTIMORE (AP)—Johns Hopkins scientists have issued their annual call for fireflies. And they're offering cash rewards to youngsters who bring them in—alive and blinking.

For years now, university researchers have been trying to learn what makes the glow worm glow, and how he turns his light on and off.

They need a lot of bugs for the study. The 1953 goal is one million. Last year only 300,000 were corraled in a poor season.

The youngster catching the most gets a $10 prize. The runner-up receives $5.

Dr. William D. McElroy, director of the project, says research so far indicates the vitamins needed to make the firefly light up are the same as those used by animals to free energy for work. The glow probably results from release of five active compounds by a "very potent" enzyme, he says.

Musial Leading Cards in Home Stand Surge; Haddix Wins

Robin Roberts Gets No. 12; Gromek Allows Four Hits

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sportswriter

It finally got hot enough in St. Louis for the Cardinals to catch fire and the word was out to the rest of the National League today to start looking for an extinguisher.

The Cards, last senior-circuit club to win a World Series, have taken seven out of eight games since coming home a week ago yesterday to be greeted by 100-degree temperatures.

They roared through the Brooklyn Dodgers for three straight, added three out of four from Pittsburgh and last night greeted the New York Giants with a seven-run barrage in the first inning that carried them to a 15-8 triumph.

One of the happiest things from a St. Louis viewpoint about the winning splurge has been the heavy hitting of Stan (The Man) Musial.

Hampered all spring by his most prolonged slump since coming to the majors, Musial finally seems to have found his eye. He's blasted five doubles, a home run and seven singles in 30 times at bat for a .433 pace on the home stand.

His over-all average has risen from a mere .251 to .274 and he has batted in nine runs to increase his total from a puny 27 to an improving 36.

Harvey Haddix went all the way on the mound last night for his ninth victory, even though the Giants got to him for 11 hits and eight runs.

In winning the cards moved within a half a game of the slumping second-place Brooklyn Dodgers, who lost, 3-2, to Cincinnati on Grady Hatton's pinch-hit home run, and to within 3½ games of league-leading Milwaukee.

The Braves got a beautiful two-hit pitching job from Warren Spahn but lost, 1-0, to the last-place Pittsburgh Pirates. Robin Roberts won his 12th game as he pitched the Philadelphia Phillies to a 6-1 decision over Chicago.

In the American League the first place New York Yankees increased their lead over Cleveland to 11 games although they lost 11-3 to Chicago in one of their worst showings of the year.

Cleveland dropped a day-night pair in Boston, 6-4, and 2-1. The night game ran 10 innings before Milt Bolling doubled home the winning run with two out.

St. Louis edged Washington, 4-3, and Detroit's Steve Gromek whitewashed the Philadelphia Athletics on four hits, 5-0.

The Dodgers, getting good pitching from Billy Loes, were breezing along with a one-run lead until the ninth when Hatton delivered with a man on base.

Spahn lost his heartbreaker when Carlos Bernier sliced a single the second Pittsburgh hit, with two men on base in the eighth. Bob Hall pitched the shutout.

The Yankee defense fell apart for four errors, three of them in the fifth inning, against the White Sox. The Chicagoans scored six runs in the fifth. Allie Reynolds absorbed most of the punishment for his third loss.

At Boston the Red Sox took the afternoon game by scoring two runs in the eighth inning on what apparently was going to be an easily caught fly ball. The wind caught the fly and converted it into a triple for Dick Gernert. Bob Chakales lost a five-hit pitching duel to Maury McDermott in the night game on Bolling's double.

Gromek, making his first start for Detroit since being traded by Cleveland, struck out three at Philadelphia and walked nobody. Bob Nieman homered in the third with one aboard to pin the third loss on rookie Marion Fricane.

Satchel Paige snuffed out a ninth-inning Washington rally to save the Browns' victory over the Senators for starter Bob Cain.

GOES TO SPRINGFIELD

SPRINGFIELD, O. (AP)—Paul W. (Bucky) Walters, 30, former Capital University athlete and head basketball coach at Columbus East High School, has been appointed head basketball coach at Springfield High School. He succeeds Elwood Pitzer who resigned April 19 due to ill health.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

With the date for the annual major league All-Star game drawing nearer, fans have found themselves selecting their favorite stars all over again. This seems to be an annual occurrence with fans and we invariably get entangled in arguments on the merits of the various players.

SHORT

We mentioned the other night we thought the National League could boast of the top hitters and could throw out some pretty fair country pitchers and we were nearly torn apart. The indignant customer choked on his milk shake and demanded we list those terrific guys from the National League.

We think the Nationals would have a pretty fair starter in Warren Spahn of Milwaukee to be followed by the Phillies' Robin Roberts. Billy Loes of Brooklyn could probably finish and any additional help could be had from the Braves Lew Burdette or Hoyt Wilhelm of the Giants. In our book, the American would have to counter with Cleveland's Bob Lemon, Mel Parnell of the Red Sox and the Yankee ace, Whitey Ford. Help would have to come from Ed Lopat and Bill Pierce.

The rest of the National League squad we would field would have Roy Campanella of Brooklyn and Del Crandall of the Braves behind the plate. The Redlegs' Ted Kluszewski would be at first, Red Schoendienst of the Cardinals at second, Roy McMillan of Cincinnati at shortstop and the Braves' Eddie Mathews filling out the infield at third base. The outfield would include Hank Sauer and Ralph Kiner of Chicago and the Cards' Stan Musial.

Infield posts for the American League would go to Washington's Mickey Vernon at first base, Bill Goodman of the Red Sox at second, Phil Rizzuto at short and Al Rosen at third. The outfield would include Larry Doby, Mickey Mantle and Boston's Jim Piersall. Yogi Berra and Clint Courtney of St. Louis would handle the catching.

The managers wouldn't be too important. Any person with a team like either of those could look almost as good as Casey Stengel.

POWERMAN. Pony League fans are still buzzing about Larry Coy's long wallop Saturday night in the VFW-Alloy game, won by VFW, 15-4. Fourteen-year-old Larry brought the fans to their feet when he clouted one over the leftfield wall at Lincoln Park.

No snow fence is used for the Pony League games and Coy's Coy's smash cleared the regular barrier 309 feet away. The ball cleared the fence by about six feet.

Cleveland's Grip on 2nd Loosened by Double Loss

BOSTON (AP)—The Cleveland Indians, who have held second place since May 31, stood in danger today of dropping all the way to fourth.

Both Boston, which took a doubleheader from the Tribe Tuesday, and Chicago are now within half a game of the Indians.

Dick Gernert's wind-blown triple over Harry Simpson's head won the first game for Boston, 6-4, while Milt Bolling's double scored the winning run in the 2-1 nightcap.

Two young pitchers—Bob Hooper and Bob Chakales — were charged with the losses.

Hooper relieved Mike Garcia in the fifth inning of the opener and gave up three runs. Chakales allowed only five hits in losing the second game, the same number Cleveland collected from Maurice McDermott, the winner.

George Strickland singled in the seventh and scored Cleveland's only run in the second game. He advanced on a walk to Al Rosen and a fly by Larry Doby and then went to the plate on Bob Kennedy's fly out.

In the first game, Doby tripled twice, driving in a run each time. In the second inning, he drove in Luke Easter, who singled, and then scored himself as Simpson grounded out. In the eighth, he drove in Billy Glynn and then crossed the plate himself as Simpson singled. Glynn ran for Easter, who got on first on a fielder's choice after Rosen walked.

Early Wynn, who hasn't won a game in a month, pitches today against Boston's Marv Grissom.

Hatton's Pinch Homer Wins For Cincinnati

Clout Upsets Dodgers, 3-2; Frank Smith Draws Starting Job

CINCINNATI (AP)—The song was all but sung last night when who should chime in but Grady Hatton—a soloist the Brooklyn Dodgers weren't even figuring into the picture.

Grady's little rendition—a king-sized clout into the rightfield bleachers with one on and one out in the bottom of the ninth—spelled a 3-2 Cincinnati victory over the Dodgers. Billy Loes was the loser.

To add an ironic twist, the winning pitcher was relief hurler Clyde King, an ex-Brooklyn hand who had lost three games without getting into the win column previously.

The Dodgers went into the lead in the fifth inning, 2-1, when Junior Gilliam blasted his fourth home run over the right centerfield screen.

Previously, the Redlegs had scored in the third when Bobby Adams slammed a one-out triple down the rightfield line and scored on Gus Bell's hoist to leftfielder Gil Hodges. The Brooks had tied the count in the fourth.

After Gilliam's home run, that was al the scoring until the ninth. Andy Seminick opened by flying out, but Roy McMillan beat out a bunt and Hatton, batting for King, sent 11,815 fans home happy by homering.

Russ Meyer will pitch for Brooklyn in the second game of the three-game series tonight. Frank Smith probably will start for the Redlegs.

ALBANIA EASES RULE

LONDON (AP) — Another Soviet satellite announced concessions to its population today. Albania's government, via Radio Tirana, said the peasants no longer have to hand part of their harvests to the state.

Big Ten Thinclads Whipped by Coast

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—A dazed Big Ten track squad was ready and willing to admit today that the West Coast is supreme in the field of running, jumping and throwing.

And the Midwest athletes had as evidence the memories of an 82 1-5 to 49 5-6 drubbing at the hands of the picked Pacific Coast Conference squad here Tuesday in the 12th annual running of the inter-conference dual meet.

The PCC squad won 10 of the 16 events and tied in another to make a runaway of the meet as it did of the NCAA meet at Lincoln, Neb., last weekend.

The Trojan athletes won six events to Illinois' two. They compiled 40½ points to Illinois' 25.

Yankee Ace To Ride Bench

Rizzuto May Be Finished After Injury

NEW YORK (AP) — Little Phil Rizzuto, 34 years old and a member of the New York Yankees since 1941, appeared to be headed for the end of the playing trail today and Manager Casey Stengel seemed to sense it.

Plagued by assorted injuries for years, Rizzuto hurt his knee last Tuesday and hasn't been the same since. His error Tuesday night in night paved the way for a big inning by the Chicago White Sox that eventually led to an 11-3 Pale Hose triumph.

Rizzuto won't play today and the chances are he'll be out for some time. Stengel said he didn't know who he would start at short today, but it may be Willie Miranda.

Association Leaders All Record Victories

The American Association pennant race was still a one-two-three scramble Wednesday as Indianapolis, Toledo and Kansas City recorded victories Tuesday night.

League leading Indianapolis beat Charleston 6-2; runnerup Toledo downed Columbus 4-3 and third-place Kansas City edged St. Paul 7-6. In the night's other game, Minneapolis squeezed into sixt position with a 7-3 decision over fifth-place Louisville.

Both Fighters Confident

Moore 8-5 Favorite As Ring Time Approaches

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — Cleveland Joey Maxim steps into the ring tonight confident that he will pull an upset and win back the world light heavyweight championship he lost to Archie Moore of California last December.

The betting odds favor Moore, the 36-year-old veteran from San Diego, by a reported 8-5 in their scheduled 15-round rematch in Utah's first title bout of any description.

The critics, although none too sure of themselves, generally picked ancient Archie to duplicate the victory he scored seven months ago in St. Louis, his native city.

"This time Maxim didn't have to shed 40 pounds to get down to 175, like he did at St. Louis," his manager Jack Kearns declared. "He has been training easily for weeks and trimming down from about 187 didn't weaken him. He's as strong as when he knocked out the British champion, Freddie Mills in London."

Moore approached the fight seemingly as confident and calm as Maxim. He has much less weight problem than Joey, and both seemed to have come along in excellent style in the higher altitude and, until the past few days, cool weather.

The temperature may be up over 85 in Ogden's open air municipal stadium when the two climb into the ring around 9 p. m., EST.

The fight will be televised on the CBS network, with the Mountain States area blacked out. There will be no radio broadcast.

McMillen Wins 2 at Hilliards

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Veteran Doc McMillen, leading driver of the current meeting at Hilliards Raceway, boosted his total to nine victories as he won two races Tuesday night.

McMillan, one of the nation's leading sulky masters, drove Miss Winsocki home ahead of the field in the featured seventh race, a classified B pace. It was the second straight triump for Miss Winsocki.

McMillan's guiding hand was also behind Noble Pick's win in the second $400 class 30 pace.

All-Stars Gain First Round Championship

Down Bird-McGinnis, 8-1, for Commercial Softball Loop Title

Smitty's All-Stars defeated Bird McGinnis, 8-1, Tuesday at Garfield Park to capture the first round championship of the Commercial Softball League.

The All-Stars wasted little time in giving Bob McKeever a working margin when they opened up in the first inning with a four-run scoring spree. A home run by Fritz Walters with Culver on base was the big blow of the inning. Smitty's added three more in the fourth inning on three hits and countered with their final run of the game in the sixth when Saull belted a homer with the sacks empty. Bird McGinnis came in with its only run of the game in the sixth after Wilcox singled and scored on a fielder's choice. McKeever gave up five hits in receiving credit for the victory while Smitty's nailed Dwight Wilcox for a total of nine bingles.

The West Town Merchants surprised K & W by scoring six runs in the fifth and going on to take a 10-6 victory. Trailing by a 6-4 count in the fifth, the Merchants caught fire and pounded out their six runs on five base hits, a walk and an error. Gene Foley hit a home run during the outburst with two men camped on the bags while Jenkins, J. Gruber and R. Gruber all hit for extra bases in the inning. Chuck Wynn of K & W also hit a home run, his coming in the second inning with the sacks emptiy. Howard Medley held the K & W hitters to six safe blows while his mates collected a total of 11 off opposing pitching.

In the final game at Garfield, GI Post went eight innings with the UAW-CIO 1039 team before taking a 2-1 decision. The Legion team pounded out a total of 10 hits while UAW-CIO was reaching Jimmy Kunkle for four hits. Bud Thorpe, playing second base for the Post, hit a home run in the third inning with no one on base. Garver scored the winning run in the eighth after reaching first on a single.

He stole second and scored the winning run on an error by the opposition's first baseman.

County Bank Wins on 2-Hit Pitching Job

Lindsey Shuts Out Goodyear, 14-0; City Bank Clips Isaly

Marion County Bank blasted Goodyear-Marion Tire Service, 14-0, and National City Bank opened up a 12-hit assault on Isaly Dairy to drop them, 11-2, in Little League baseball contests Tuesday night. The games were part of the American League schedule.

Mohr led off with a base on balls for County Bank, Wolfe doubled and Lindsey and Sims singled to bring in three runs. Goodyear got off to a poor start when three went down after the first man reached base on a walk. From then on they collected only two hits. The winning pitcher with a two-hit shutout was Chuck Lindsey.

County Bank scored four in both the second and third innings on hits by Mohr, Craft, Wolfe, Lindsey, Sims, Gruber and Fitch. They collected 18 hits.

In the second game City Bank stretched its league lead as it scored five runs in the second on three hits and six errors. This was enough to win the game but not satisfied the winners scored six in the fifth with a barrage of seven hits. Combs and Gwinner singled to lead off the inning and Kern and Steerman brought them around. A walk by Jones and a double by Porietas kept the rally alive. When Williams hit and Combs hit for the second time seven runs had come across the plate.

Isaly scored two in the fifth on three hits and one error. Williams was the winning pitcher for National City Bank.

Tonight in Little League play Vance meets Osgood and Wilhelms takes on Hintons.

TONIGHT IS FIGHT NIGHT AT THE RITZ . .
Tonight Archie Moore of St. Louis, world's light-heavyweight champion, will defend his title against former champion Joey Maxim of Cleveland, Ohio in a 15-round brawl. Moore, who began his professional career at the age of 18, has fought an impressive total of more than 140 bouts, lifted the crown from Joey Maxim last December. Maxim is a veteran of 100 ring battles, and is equally adept with a right hook or a left, while he is not quite Moore's equal as a ring strategist. He is a much harder hitter. But we predict Moore to retain his crown . . . .

TO STORE WHEAT SAFELY AT HOME FOR GOVERNMENT LOAN FOLLOW THESE STEPS
1. Clean and spray bins and surrounding building surfaces NOW.
2. We will custom dry your wheat if it is over 12% moisture when combined. Damp wheat will get weavily in a hurry. Should be 12% or lower for safe storage. High moisture content is the principal reason for farm stored wheat getting out of condition.
3. Use sheet metal, hardware cloth or other materials to make bin rodent proof.
4. Be sure windows and other openings are in good repair to prevent entry of birds.
5. Fumigate promptly within two to three weeks after grain is stored.

What's Behind The PRICE TAG on a USED CAR?

When you shop for a used car, the big question in your mind is —what will you get for your money?

You can't answer that by merely looking the car over, or even listening to the engine. The smart thing to do is to buy your car from a dealer who has a reputation to maintain.

We're Buick dealers. We know it pays to sell dependable cars. We intend to stay in business—to keep making new friends. And we know that the good will of a used-car customer is just as important as that of a man who buys a brand-new Buick.

That's why we recondition and guarantee our best cars — and sell them under a rigid All Square policy. When we're willing to stand behind them, with all our resources and our reputation — you know they're bargains in quality as well as in price!

Most of these are fine one-owner cars—priced low enough so your present car will more than cover the down payment. Come see our All Square cars—this week!
